

LABOR DAY IN NEWARK FITTINGLY CELEBRATED

Thousands Witness Mammoth Parade Which Was Principal Feature of the Day's Program

GAILY DECORATED CITY THROGGED WITH VISITORS

Fine Weather Prevailed and Plenty of Amusement Was Provided for All—Old Guard and Civic Bodies Participated—Trades and Labor Council to be Congratulated for Success of Celebration.

Nature smiled beautifully on organized labor in Newark as well as other places in Ohio Monday and as far as the weather was concerned the celebration of this great holiday in the American workman's year was auspicious from sun rise until the stroke of midnight that ushered in another day of toil.

In Newark, nature was especially kind. The weather could not have been more ideal if it had been made to order. The day dawned bright and fair and it was just warm enough to be pleasant without causing those who took part in the parade any discomfort.

A cool light breeze blew all day long and for this the ardent followers of the creed of organized labor were duly thankful. They really enjoyed the day's celebration, the excellent program, which was prepared by a capable committee.

The real festivities of the day were launched with the start of the mammoth parade at 10 o'clock Monday morning. However, long before this there was the feeling of freedom from the usual cares and worries in the hearts of all on the crowded streets.

The presence of thousands of union men uniformed for the big parade, the flashing of the red, white and blue in flags and bunting, the squeak of the old fashioned fair time whistles, the cry of the cane vendor and the refreshment man, with an occasional blare of a bugle or the blast of other instruments and the roll of the drums all gave a gala touch to the atmosphere of the downtown streets.

The crowds were all that could be hoped for. Long before the time announced for the parade the downtown streets, over which it was announced that the parade would march, were thronged with loyal advocates of organized labor. They waited patiently for the start of the great pageant and their wait was not in vain for the features were well worth waiting for.

It is estimated that the formation was fully two miles in length and it took the better part of an hour for it to pass a given point. Every feature advertised for the event was fulfilled and many of the features, new to labor day parades, made the spectacle one well worth the time spent to see it march past in grand review.

Two bands and two drum corps, all composed of highly efficient musicians, men and boys of all ages, participated. There is no manner in which an intelligent estimate of the number of men in the line of march could be made. Practically every craft in the city was represented. Many of the secret orders turned out, some in uniform, and others in civilian attire. Even Newark's newest comers the foreigners, were represented with a magnificent turnout under a banner bearing the legend "Roumanian Beneficial Society." With this delegation there were at least three hundred men all of whom were foreign born and who have come to the land of the free to seek their fortunes under better conditions

Church street to Fourth street where it disbanded.

As the last of the merchant's floats turned into West Main street at fifth, the head of the parade with the band leading, turned into West Main street at Fourth so it can be seen that the line of march was practically 15 block in length.

The parade was headed by a detachment of the famous Buckeye Band. This band was largely reinforced and then divided so a part of it appeared in one portion of the parade and another detachment in another portion. All were members of the Federated Musicians.

The police department, headed by Chief of Police Charles Hindel and Captain Charles Swank followed with the patrol wagon in the same section. Then came chief of the fire department, Louis Basch in an auto. The ladder truck and hose company from the central house were next with the fire companies from East Newark, West Newark and the North End in the order named.

An automobile in which rode members of the committee with Mayor John Ankele, and Labor Commissioner Charles Wirmel came next. Another battery of automobiles carried all the city officials.

The second band headed the delegates to the Trades and Labor Assem-

NERVOUSNESS

Caused Throughout France and Germany by Resumption of Moroccan Negotiations.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—Alarming rumors seriously interfering with commercial interests, both of France and Germany are causing intense nervousness throughout the German empire today as a result of the resumption of the Moroccan negotiations. The German press is today giving much space to the speech at Toulon of the French Minister of Marines Delcasse, who declared that the French Navy is prepared for any emergency. Today comes an emphatic response from Kiehl where the Kaiser is reviewing the German fleet that the German navy is equally well prepared. In official circles it is denied today that there is a possibility of war.

YOUNG GEIDEL SENTENCED TO SING SING TODAY

New York, Sept. 5.—Paul Geidel, 17 year old murderer of aged Wm. H. Jackson today heard sentence of not less than 20 years, nor more than his natural life at hard labor, passed upon him. He displayed no emotion as Judge Crane pronounced sentence and walked from the court prepared to be taken to Sing Sing apparently without taking the slightest notice of his mother who was weeping silently close by.

KILLED IN ZOO WRECK

Fremont, Wis., Sept. 5.—Three men were killed and forty injured, some seriously when a Soo line passenger train struck a misplaced switch and was wrecked a mile south of here today. The engine was completely demolished and all but two cars left the track.

The engine and mail cars of the train were thrown 200 feet, landing in a corn field. The other coaches, with the exception of two Pullmans, went into a ditch. The engineer of the wrecked train and two unidentified men were killed. A woman from Duluth and a tramp from Detroit are among the injured who will probably die.

THREE BANDITS BOUND WATCHMAN THEN SHOT HIM

Highland Park, Ill., Sept. 5.—After binding and fatally shooting the night watchman three masked bandits early today broke into the music pavilion at Ravinia park, stole $600, and escaped. The men accosted the watchman with revolvers and forced him to stand while they bound him with wires. He called for help and was shot.

MOVEMENT FOR SAFER FLIGHTS IN EXHIBITIONS

Paris, Sept. 5.—With four noted French aviators killed in three days a determined movement was started here today to compel more careful regulation of exhibition flights. Two men were incinerated in mid-air because of leaks in their gasoline tanks. One fell a great distance because of defects in his motor and another was precipitated 600 feet because of a break in his plane. Expert aviators believe that the element of carelessness in overhauling the machine before the start was a factor in each accident.

MORE VICTIMS OF "POISON PEN"

Easton, Pa., Sept. 5.—Every day brings to light more victims of the "poison pen" wielded, it is charged, by Miss Harriet DeWitt, daughter of a well-to-do merchant, and consequently there is no lack of interest in the remarkable case. It became known today that a second clergyman, the Rev. Paul S. Laimbach, has received 40 letters attacking his character, while a man who was to have accepted a position in the high school faculty was driven from town by mysterious letters which he received. Miss DeWitt is held under bond by the postoffice authorities, but she pursues her way apparently the most unconcerned person in town.

CROSS-EXAMINATION OF BEATTIE ENDED AFTER SEVEN HOURS DURATION

Chesterfield, C. H., Va., Sept. 5.—Half a dozen witnesses today damaged the careful emotional story of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., which he told to the jury yesterday and this morning to save himself from a death penalty for the murder of his wife.

As soon as the prisoner had left the stand the prosecution began its attack on his story. For several hours his version of the events were under fire and before recess he had been flatly contradicted in his statement that he did not see his cousin Paul on the Thursday night before the crime. The effect of this testimony practically upsets that portion of Beattie's story. The prosecution believes that this flaw in his story would prove to the jury that none of his testimony was to be relied upon.

complete the ordeal for the prisoner when court convened today.

Judge Watson then ordered the cross examination stopped, saying that the facts of the case had been fully developed and that it was not necessary to make the examination a test of endurance. Beattie was then turned over to Attorney General Smith for re-direct examination. Smith waived this right, however, and announced that the defense had closed its case. Prosecutor Windenburg then began his rebuttal. Harry Latham was the first witness called.

Chesterfield C. H., Va., Sept. 5.—Fortified by a night of calm unbroken sleep, Henry Clay Beattie today continued his remarkable fight for life on the witness stand before the 12 men who will decide his innocence or guilt of the murder of his wife.

For seven long hours yesterday he told without a tremor of the life and death of the girl whose body, dripping with blood, he carried home from an automobile spin. Pierce cross-examination by the prosecutor failed to shake his story in any material point. Seven minutes sufficed to

The slowing that the young man had made throughout all the day up to the last half hour of the court session had been such as to excite comment through all the packed courthouse. People had wagered on the green before the court convened that Beattie would go to pieces at this and that point in the cross-questioning. They had said that his nerve was not up to the strain, that there would be something he could not explain.

To the contrary, the self-contained

INJUNCTION TO RESTRAIN SHUTTING OFF OF WATER IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Alleging that through the action of Service Director W. C. Christian in shutting off the water in all the public school buildings of the city, imperils the health of the pupils, and creates a danger of an epidemic, owing to the crippling of the sanitation of the various buildings, and charging that the schools can not be operated without water, an action was commenced in Common Pleas court Tuesday morning by the city board of education asking for a temporary injunction restraining the director of public service from keeping the water shut off.

The suit resulted from the action of Mr. Christian in sending his men to the various school buildings Tuesday morning and having the water shut off. It was the opening day of the fall term of school and it was impossible for the teachers to continue work and it was necessary to dismiss the children. Attorneys for the school board immediately prepared a petition which was filed in the Common Pleas court praying for an injunction. The petition alleges that the board has never been charged for water service before and that the service was shut off just before school opened, thereby greatly inconveniencing the plaintiff. It charges that there are nearly 5,000 pupils enrolled in the schools and that by depriving them of drinking water, it is impossible for the schools to continue. The board also charges that there is great danger of an epidemic, also from the fact that the water has been shut off in the toilet rooms.

Judge Charles W. Seward granted a temporary restraining order and the defendant was ordered to allow turn on the water until the matter can be heard in court. The defendants assert that they have no other source for their water supply and that the defendant has taken advantage of this fact. Norpell, Norpell & Martin; Kibler & Kibler and D. M. Keller are attorneys for the plaintiff.

IMMUNITY IS SOUGHT BY SOLON

As a Direct Result of the Latest Diegel Confession

NUMEROUS JOY RIDES

And Visits to Questionable Places by Legislators Were of Frequent Occurrence.

Columbus, O., Sept. 5.—Promise of indictments against several senators whose names have not yet been mentioned in connection with the bribery in the general assembly, and against prominent lobbyists, are indicated as a result of the latest partial confession of Rodney J. Diegel, senate sergeant-at-arms, already convicted and awaiting sentence on a charge of acting as bribe broker.

But Diegel is not yet ready to tell all, and word has been sent him as a result of his new disclosures that until he is ready to unbosom himself without reservation, neither Attorney General Hogan nor Mr. Turner will hear him.

Strange oaths and weird ceremonies, by which legislators swore by their mothers and their lives that they would not reveal the plans made for the defense when placed on trial in the bribery cases are partially revealed by the story Diegel so far has laid bare. But in spite of these stories a confession may come from one of the inner circle of solons that is calculated to reveal much of the crookedness that has characterized recent sessions of the general assembly. It is understood that a proposal to confess in order to gain immunity already has been made by a legislator.

Tells of Joy Rides.

In Diegel's latest confession, joy rides and visits to road houses are described and the charge made that certain legislators were "doped" by lobbyists just before a vote was to be taken on important measures.

In discussing the matter Prosecuting Attorney Turner said: "It is understood that Diegel has given names of senators and lobbyists and dates, too, when legislators were 'seen' by lobbyists. He has mentioned various 'milkers,' the central-board bill, the optometry bill, the coal screen bill and the second wet or Dean-Fulton bill, on which he knows of certain things that were done. On the first Dean bill there was no attempt at improper use of money, it is said.

"Diegel's story is stronger than I had supposed. What he has told so far shows that he is probably playing fair, though he still declares that he will suffer his tongue to be torn out and rot in the penitentiary before he will answer questions concerning certain matters. These pertain to a senator who is his close personal friend. Until he will inform Mr. Hogan and myself that he is ready to tell all he knows, we will not see him. If he does tell everything freely and without reservation, we may recommend clemency when he comes before Judge Kinkead for sentence."

Vacation tomorrow or Thursday and Diegel will be brought before him for sentence before Saturday, the date set for final adjournment.

DIEGEL'S ATTORNEYS TALK.

Columbus, Sept. 5.—Accusing the state's attorneys of attempting to try in the newspapers the case of Rodney J. Diegel, convicted of complicity in the legislative bribery deals, and censuring them for alleged attempts to work up the public so that other indicted legislators will be unable to secure a fair jury trial, Attorneys Belcher & Conner, counsel for Col. Diegel, today issued a statement saying that there was absolutely nothing in the stories of the alleged confession by Diegel other than a studied attempt to bias public opinion against the men under indictment, thereby making it extremely difficult for the defendants to secure a fair jury trial, say the attorneys.

"If the state's attorneys have been correctly quoted we desire to say that in our opinion there is no jurisdiction either in law or morals for endeavoring to obtain a confession in this manner."

SUNDAY'S GAME.
In Sunday's game, Jack Compton pitching his last game for Dayton before going to the Reds, was at his best and the visitors could do little against his baffling delivery. He showed his greatest skill in the pinches, for both teams secured nine hits. Goldrick pitched great ball until the eighth when errors helped him to allow three scores. Gray got three hits, one for two bases out of four times up. Goldrick issued but four passes and Kilpatrick showing his usual skill at getting on bases, drew three of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hager entertained relatives with a chicken dinner Monday in honor of Mrs. James Walker and daughter, Mrs. Almon Iarcho of Pittsburg, Kas., who have been visiting at the Hager home for the past seven weeks. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Iarcho left Tuesday morning for their home in Pittsburg.

Among those who were present at the reunion yesterday were: Mr. Dillon Moorehead and family of Gratiot, Thaddeus Morgan and family of Mt. Sterling, Joseph Corson and family of Mt. Sterling, William Moorehead and family of Gratiot, Day Cooper and family of Flint Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moorehead of Glenford, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart of Newark, Miss Kreager of Gratiot, Mr. Fred Rule of Columbus, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Iarcho of Pittsburg, Kas.

An event of social prominence on Wednesday will be the marriage of Miss Lydia M. King and Mr. James Loughridge. The nuptials will be solemnized at the Baptist church at four o'clock in the afternoon of Wednesday and in the evening there will be a reception for the bridal couple.

Miss King is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. King of Sharon Valley and she is a graduate of the Newark High school and has been a student at the Conservatory of Music at Denison University. The groom is a mechanical engineer and has studied at Denison and Ohio State University.

Monday's holiday was a delightful one to the members of the Country club and hundreds were attracted to the greens in the morning by the event of the golf tournament. In the afternoon the hours were given over to bridge and a number of tables of players participated in the game, the high scores being made by Mrs. E. C. Wright and Mrs. F. M. Black. A number of the visitors of the club during the afternoon remained to dinner in the evening and then several large parties motored out in the evening and an informal dance was given. The environment of the Country Club lends to events formal and informal such an enjoyment that yesterday's entertainments were only a few more added to the long list of delightful events given since its opening.

On Friday evening Mr. W. J. Cady and Mr. David Manning entertained a dinner party of eight at the Country club. The guests were Miss Hazel Altschul, Miss Frances Wright, Miss Louise Norpell, Miss Stickney of Beverly, Mass., Messrs. R. M. Miner, Mar-

Norpell, W. J. Cady and David Manning.

The Ohio State Journal of Columbus has been carrying a series of full page sketches of charming Newark girls and last Sunday's issue show a full page reproduction of a photograph of Miss Mary Follett. The work is done by Mr. Westerman, the paper's artist. Miss Follett is the society editor of the American Tribune.

JONES-STERRETT.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Sterrett of east of Kirtersville, was solemnized the marriage on August 31 of Miss Nellie Sterrett and Mr. Parry A. Jones, of Granville. The wedding was marked by simplicity and was attended only by the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Jones and the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. D. Gillispie. The grandfather of the bride read the marriage ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Jones left at one o'clock for Williamsburg, N. Y., where they will make their future home. Mr. Jones is employed as a teacher in chemistry in the schools there.

DUNCAN-CHASE.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mr. Frank S. Duncan, formerly of this city, and Miss Ruth M. Chase of Akron, O., in Lima on Saturday, September 2. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the Rev. A. A. Ballinger in Lima and the young people were attended by Mr. Everett Furnace and Miss Freda Blank.

Mr. Duncan is well known here, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan of Prospect street this city and he was for a number of years assistant pressman of the Advocate Printing company, but lately he has been connected with a newspaper in Lima. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan are spending several days in this city the guests of the groom's parents and later they will leave for their future home in Marion, Ohio.

DON'T BURY YOUR CLOTHES.

Tag bags are old clothes cemeteries. Half the old clothes are sent there by rubbing and scrubbing them with strong, greasy, yellow soap. That makes clothes rot out long before their time. It's the other way 'round with Hewitt's Easy Task Soap, the original white kind. That sends the dirt flying, and how much longer the clothes last! Five cents a cake, at all grocers.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

For An Evening's Entertainment.

MOST people like to talk. And an evening of spirited conversation in which each feels he has taken his part well, leaves all with the agreeable sensation of having had a good time. Therefore if any little coterie of friends, who wish to plan out some entertainment for the winter, will give an evening each week or fortnight or month, as time permits, to discussion, they will find that it will prove one of the most enjoyable evenings of the winter's round of pleasure.

Such a course is being planned by a little circle fond of discussion. They intend to take up plays of the day that turn upon ethical questions, and thresh the subject out at their meetings. The first play to be discussed is Galsworthy's "Justice," the play which brought about so many reforms in the English prison system. Some of the questions that will be brought up for discussion are: "Should penitentiaries be places of punishment or of moral education?" "How far are criminals patients?" "Is crime a preventable disease?" "Are people responsible for weak wills?"

As can be seen such questions will lead to much spirited discussion, and into many interesting side issues. Scarcely any one but has some opinions on these matters, and as has been said, it is always enjoyable to express one's opinion. And such an evening makes for mental growth and a wider outlook, and this also brings pleasure. So that an evening passed this way cannot fail to be enjoyable.

Some of the other plays to be discussed are Galsworthy's "Strife," Ibsen's "The Enemy of the People," Shaw's "Widower's Houses," Suderman's "Magda." It is proposed that some one shall give a brief summary of the play for the benefit of those who may not have read it or seen it. But those summaries must simply be a statement of the facts. It must not be biased or prejudiced in any way.

Books could be taken up instead of plays, if preferred; or for that matter, any questions of the day that have a vital place in life.

Those who like lighter entertainment might not care for this. But even these would find that an evening now and then passed in this way would be more enjoyable than they imagined. And the young person who is shy and not able to discover anything to talk about in general company will find this one of the best methods of overcoming her shyness, and becoming at ease in society. When she is given a subject to talk about, she can usually talk, and she will become so interested that she will forget self-consciousness and diffidence, and before she knows it they will have vanished and she will be at ease anywhere.

Stomach Blood and Liver Troubles

Much sickness starts with weak stomach, and consequent poor, impoverished blood. Nervous and pale people lack good, rich, red blood. Their stomachs need invigorating for, after all, a man can be no stronger than his stomach. A remedy that makes the stomach strong and the liver active, makes rich red blood and overcomes and drives out disease-producing bacteria and cures a whole multitude of diseases.

Get rid of your Stomach Weakness and Liver Laziness by taking a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery - the great Stomach Restorative, Liver Invigorator and Blood Cleanser.

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, some being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Mr. Kenneth Hall entertained at dinner Sunday Miss Gertrude Wright of Granville, Miss Ruth Rickert of Newark, Misses Susannah, Geraldine and Charlotte Huffman, Mr. William P. Huffman and Robert McCann of Dayton and Mr. Carl Frisch of Bremen, Ohio.

COURT NEWS

Adjudged Insane.
An affidavit in lunacy was filed today in probate court against Ida M. Thompson of Granville and upon the testimony of Drs. J. D. Thompson and C. A. Burke the woman was adjudged insane and ordered committed to the state hospital at Columbus. The lunacy affidavit was signed by Dr. Thompson.

Examiners Named.
Tuesday, Judge Robbins Hunter named John E. McCracken of Hope-well township and John H. Franklin of Newark as examiners to go over the records of the county treasurer. Examiners go over the books every six months and just before each new official takes charge of his office, the examiners give the retiring treasurer and the new man a clean bill.

Asks for Dismissal.
In the case of Wilbur C. Kirkendall, a minor, by James E. Kirkendall, his next friend, vs. Nellie Leese, the defendant, by her attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, has filed an answer to the suit in common pleas court, denying the allegations of the plaintiff and praying for a dismissal of the action.

The plaintiff's petition in this case was filed July 26 and charges that an automobile owned by the defendant collided with a buggy in which Kirkendall was riding. The petition alleges that the lad was thrown from the buggy and suffered an injury to the thigh that will make him a cripple for life. He asks damages in the sum of $10,000. Owen & Carr of Mt. Vernon are attorneys for the plaintiff.

A similar suit is pending in which James E. Kirkendall charges the defendant with damaging his buggy and horse and inflicting personal injuries to the plaintiff, for which he asks damages in the sum of $2000. The defendant has filed an answer in this case, denying the plaintiff's allegations.

WOULD EMPLOY FOR CLERKS IN THE DEPARTMENT

Cincinnati, Sept. 5.—It was suggested at the annual meeting of the National association of supervisory post-office employees today that the government might save from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 annually by having boys from 15 to 18 years as apprentice post-office clerks. Postmaster General Hitchcock and other members of his department it is said are now seriously considering the project. At present the minimum limit is 18 years. The plan was broached by Pierce Maher, former secretary of the civil service board of employees. If 10,000 postal clerks, or one-quarter the force, were young boys Maher said, the efficiency of the department would be greatly increased.

MOVES TO CITY FROM BLACK HAND

Charles E. Livingston, the popular and genial steward of the Elk club, moved Tuesday with his family to the Jewell flats.

For the past three years Mr. Livingston has revelled in amateur farming at Black Hand and has put to shame many toilers of the soil who have spent an entire lifetime in studying crops and cattle. His specialty has been fowls and neighbors for miles around will testify that he has become an expert in that specialty.

As a side line Mr. Livingston acted as agent for the Ohio Electric at the station and that position has been assumed by his brother-in-law, Mr. Hugh Kennedy. The neighbors were loath to part with the husbandman and when he left they gathered in large numbers to wish him good-speed and a successful career in the city life where he had again decided to make his home.

A WEALTH OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Nothing equals an aureole of beautiful hair as a frame for a pretty face. Without a background of nice hair a really pretty face frequently becomes plain and with it, unattractive features assume life and beauty. Every woman can increase her natural charm by using Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide makes hair beautiful. The dandruff germ saps the vitality of the hair. Herpicide kills this germ and prevents the hair from falling out, giving it a snap and luster, a soft, silky fluffiness which can be acquired in no other way.

Your druggist will sell you a one-dollar size bottle under an absolute guarantee.

Send 10c in postage for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Company, Dept. B, Detroit, Mich. Applications may be obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Flies Purveyors of Disease.
There is no doubt that flies can carry the germs of typhoid and other diseases and plant them where the soil is favorable. We may be immune to typhoid and consumption, but if we could see the feet of the fly through the microscope and guess where he gathered the filth that he often carries when he alights on the dining room table we would give him no quarter.

Owing to the rain today, a very light primary election vote has been cast up to 3:00 p. m. The small vote makes the result of the primary election decidedly uncertain. Newark owes it to herself and to Ohio to nominate strong, capable men and the only way to make sure of this result is a full vote. If you have not already voted do so now but remember the polls will close at 5:30 this evening.

In the Canadian election campaign
the arguments of the opposition against the Reciprocity bill are exactly the reverse of those employed in efforts to defeat the measure while pending in Congress. The Canadian farmers are warned of the disastrous effect that unrestrained American competition will have on their industry.
The methods whereby the Canadian Tories back up their appeals to prejudice are as dishonest as any that have ever been resorted to by Protectionists on this side of the boundary line. A carload of sheep imported from this country was recently sold at Toronto under the price ruling in that city; but the Liberals claim to have discovered that the sheep in question were bought with money out of the Tories' campaign fund and sold at a considerable loss. Offers from alleged American fruit growers and others to sell their products in Canada at very low figures, if the reciprocity pact

should be ratified by the Dominion Parliament, are likewise suspected.
Possibly they are genuine and emanate from American Protectionists, who wish to ditch the compact on the other side, now that they have been defeated on this side.

Two battleships, which are to be added to the navy in compliance with the last Naval Appropriation act, are designed to be the largest vessels of their class in the world. Their displacement will probably be 28,500 tons
each, and it is intended to arm them with batteries of ten 14-inch guns. In their armament the proposed ships will not exceed the New York and the Texas, previously authorized; their armor, however, will be heavier and their displacement 1500 tons greater.
Nevertheless, even now the naval designers are contemplating a still more powerful ship, with a battery of ten 16-inch guns. To stand the terrific recoil of these guns a vessel of 35,000 tons displacement would be required.
No sooner have naval designers attained the ne plus ultra of battleship
construction than they proceed to render their latest creation obsolescent by designing something more ultimate.
There seems to be some sense in the proposition to set a limit to the size
and power of battleships by international agreement. Nothing else would seem to prevent the rivalry among naval Powers from developing into madness.

When President Taft ends his swing around the circle public opinion will be apt to have a word as to the effects of the arbitrary exercise of the veto power upon reduction of exorbitant taxation of the clothing and other necessaries and comforts of the American people.

It is announced that President Taft
will make the tariff the principal topic
of his speeches in his projected talks to his great constituency. It was hardly possible to make other choice. The tariff is the underlying mischief that is turning the business of the country
topsy-turvy. It is the uppermost question at issue between political parties. The battle of 1912 will be waged along that dividing line. Mr. Taft will have a chance to take opportunity by the forelock by turning the mind of his party in the direction of tax reduction. He should follow in the footsteps of Garfield by advocating "that sort of protection that leads up to free trade."

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Newark Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of kidney illness when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Newark citizen says:
C. E. Walton, 74 South Second street, Newark, O., says: "I can vouch for the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, as I gave them a thorough test. My kidneys were inactive for years and caused a dull ache across the small of my back. There was much lameness through my loins and the constant standing which my work required, aggravated the trouble.
After various remedies had failed to help me, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they brought such great relief that I heartily endorsed them. I willingly confirm my former statement at this time."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,
New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—
and take no other.

WHAT IS BEER?

Doc Wiley's called on to decide the pregnant question: "What is beer?" He'll split the subject open wide and hand a verdict down this year. He might consult some dreamy hum who has a dark and mournful tale of how from affluence he's come to occupy a cell in jail. Beer is a good and harmless drink if you but let the stuff alone while bottled up, like purple ink, it never caused a sigh or groan. But if you pour it down your throat, one bottle clamors for its mate; it starts right in to get your goat and it will get it, soon or late. This drink in which such virtue lies, will fill your head with aches and pains, and give you puffed and crimson eyes, and scatter colic through your brains. On energy it puts the cramp;
it useful work you hate to launch, it puts new outlines on your shape until it leaves you mostly punch. It spoils your appetite for food—beer, beer alone is all you beg—the good old brew, from glass or wood—until you are a human keg. And when your love for beer you lose, because it fails to hit the spot, you fondly turn to strong-or booze, and drink it till your insides rot.

LABOR DAY

bly and then followed the various labor unions in the following order:
Musicians' Union, Retail Clerks,
Carpenters and Joiners, Lathers, Plasterers, Brewers, Plumbers.

Second Division.

Band, Bottle Workers. The bottle workers carried an immense flag and had contrived an elaborate float covered with bottles of all sizes and hues Typographical Union. The printers had with them in the line of march a "printer's devil" decked out in regular Mephistopheles costume. Stage Employees, Electrical Workers. The electricians were garbed in blue shirts and corduroy trousers which made a very noble appearance.
Painters, Machinists, Barbers. The barbers carried umbrellas with large red and white stripes. Tailors, Cigar makers, Street Cleaning Department, Sprinklers and Sweepers, Teamsters.

Third Division.

Knights of St. John, uniformed.
Columbus Drum Corps, made up of old soldiers, Old Guards of '61, Columbus, O., Newark Old Guard Drum Corps, Old Guards of '61, Newark, O.
Modern Woodmen in Uniform, Minnesota Tribe 52, I. O. O. F. M. This new tribe the Redmen have appeared in uniform in Newark, Home Guards of America, Roumanian Beneficial Society.

The following merchants were represented with floats: Herman, Stewart Bros., and Alward, Vogelmeier, Chalheate Spring Water Co., Kirk
and Holtsberry, Newark Steam Lau-
dry, Myhus, Linehan, Sam'l Imhoff, Ice, Gus Kearns exhibited a turtle frozen in ice, Keystone Trading Co., Sar-gus, Beckman's Grocery, Prior's Grocery, Newark Business College, W. M.
Zentmeyer, Dogg's Meat Market, J. D.
Kneely.

The amusement program began in the afternoon with the high wire performance of Freddy Cunningham.
The wire was stretched across South
Third street just above the canal, giving him an approach from the east by way of the roof-top. Mr. Cunningham performed his remarkable feat
at a height of fifty feet without any nets to break a chance fall. His most daring feat consisted in walking out on the wire with a table in one hand and a chair in the other. He balanced the chair on the wire, seated himself and balancing the table in front of him, lighted a cigarette and smoked.
He then removed the apparatus and walked backwards to the roof-top.
At the court house park, the Old
Guards from Columbus gave an elaborate drill followed by a similar military performance by the Newark Old Guards. They were assisted in this by the two drum corps.

On the north side of the court house the Modern Woodmen then went through a clever drill, performing some most intricate marches and counter marches and finishing by spelling in the line of march the letters representing the organization, a feat which showed the results of the most painstaking and careful practice.

The immense crowd then pressed around the greased pole on the south side of the court house in such numbers that it was almost impossible to get the crowd back in order to have room for the boys around the pole.

There were two contestants, John Burke and "Baldy" Prior. The boys took turns but neither were able to climb to the top. The pole had been so thoroughly greased that even with the assistance of onlookers
neither of the contestants could reach the coveted hill. The boys then compromised and Johnny climbed first,
placed his foot on "Baldy's" shoulder
and the combined effort took the five dollar bill which they divided equally.

Six girls competed in the running race which followed, the prize handsome rug furnished by the Brilliant Furniture and Clothing Company, being won by Miss Mattie Jones.

The wheelbarrow race in which three young men competed was won by Ernest Garrison. The prize is to be furnished by H. H. Johnson and Son, West Newark grocers.

The sack race took place on West Main street, four young men contest-ing. The prize was won by Tom, Pesler, to be donated by Fred Umsot.

Three married ladies participated in the potato race which furnished
great amusement for the spectators.
The race was won by Mrs. Mattie Wilson, 158 Elm street. The prize was donated by Ferd Mohlenpach, china store.

The watermelon and the old men's fiddling contests were omitted.
In the tug-of-war, the crew captained by L. Hudspeth won, and a five dollar bill furnished by the committee as a prize was divided among the winning boys.

The concluding performance was the high wire walking by Freddy Cunningham in which he added to his earlier performance by pushing a wheelbarrow across the wire and finished by walking across in a sack and blindfolded by a canvas bag. The latter performance elicited a hearty applause.

Labor Commissioner Charles Wirmel.
Commissioner of Labor Statistics Charles Wirmel of Columbus, took part in the parade and was very enthusiastic over the excellent showing made by the Trades and Labor Assemblies of Newark.

An Advocate representative met Mr.
Wirmel later in the day and questioning him regarding the achievements made by the toilers of Ohio through the enactment of laws that will prove beneficial to the countless thousands of laboring men and women was given the following statement of facts by Commissioner Wirmel:

The late General Assembly with the able and energetic co-operation of the present chief executive, has done more in the interest of the toiling masses of Ohio, than any General Assembly
during the last two decades.

The Initiative and Referendum,
for many years championed and demanded by labor and applying to all municipal corporations, is now a law
and places in the hands of the voter
a means of obtaining fair and just consideration in municipal affairs. While this may not be all that has been sought for, it marks the beginning of a move in placing greater power in the hands of the people.

The Non-Partisan Judicial ballot places in the hands of the voter the means of taking the judiciary out of politics and electing to what is most important branch of the government,
men who are best qualified to interpret
the law and mete out justice.

The unfortunate wage earner who through adverse circumstances may be forced to borrow money, has been very materially benefitted by the passage of Senate Bill No. 52, which places the supervision of loan agencies in the hands of the secretary of state. The law provides for the bonding and licensing of such agencies and limits interest charges to eight per cent per annum. The benefits of this law can best be appreciated by those who have experienced the insatiable greed of the unscrupulous and unrestricted loan agent.

House Bill No. 538, provides for severe penalties for the imitation or counterfeiting of Union labels, shop
cards, seals, etc., and is aimed to eliminate the possibility of unscrupulous persons resorting to unfair and unjust
methods in the manufacture and sale of products to be "Union Made."
The law limiting the hours of labor

of women is next in importance only to the Workmen's Compensation law.
The people have awakened to the evils resultant from excessive hours of labor of females; evils which as has been attested by the ablest medical authorities, oftentimes unites the female factor in physical and sometimes mental deficiencies in the offspring. While the application of this law may at first subject some employers and the working women themselves to some inconvenience, it must eventually, like everything else that tends to better the environments of womankind, redound beneficially to the greatest number and to the future well-being of the race.

The placing under the state's supervision the inspection of steam boilers
will eventually eliminate an evil that,
in the past, has proven to be a menace not only to those who are compelled to earn a living in close proximity to uninsured and sometimes dangerous steam boilers, but to the general public as well, which in the daily walks of life is at times unconsciously subjected to the hidden dangers of unsafe steam boilers. The enforcement of this law, coupled with the rigid Engineer's Examining system
now in vogue in this state, will serve as additional factors to public safety.

The Workmen's Insurance or Compensation laws places Ohio foremost among the states of the union in providing substantial compensation for employees injured or killed in industrial accidents. In establishing the insurance fund the workman pays ten per cent and the employer pays ninety per cent of the premiums, the amounts to be determined by the hazard of the risk, and paid into the State treasury semi-annually. Temporary or partial disability entitles the injured person
to two-thirds of their average weekly earnings, the minimum being five dollars, the maximum twelve dollars per week, benefits to continue for a period not exceeding six years not to exceed thirty-four hundred dollars in the aggregate. Total permanent disability of the injured person is entitled to average earnings until death. Dependents of injured persons are entitled to same benefits where injury results in death. These are the commendable features of the law which has earned
for it the approval of the workman,
an overwhelming majority of the employers and the general public, since it gives direct to the deserving the help, which heretofore was obtained through compromise, prolonged litigation and enormous expense, and which in many instances resulted in little or no benefit to the injured or needy.

The One Per Cent Tax law which provides for a just and fair equalization of taxable property must eventually prove a boon to the homeowner.

strength and health-giving qualities
that are so necessary to them.

Mrs. Julia Corum, one of our patients, tells of her experience: "I have been in a very precarious condition for a year, which affected me mentally and physically. I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, with splendid results. We are never without it in our house." Mrs. Julia Corum, Highport,

BIG YELLOW STREAK EXHIBITED BY HACK

Chicago, Sept. 5.—There is but one conclusion drawn today by the 28,000 persons who witnessed yesterday's fiasco, when Frank Gotch, world's champion wrestler made George Hackenschmidt, the Russian quit cold. That conclusion is that, having received his money in advance and having nothing in the world to gain
by training or struggling hard, Hack quit cold, laying flat on his back to hide the streak of yellow that showed through his swallow skin.

Gotch was in condition and trained as hard as ever before in his life, and was ready to give the spectators a fight for their money. He was earnest and conscientious and when he saw the hog-fat Hack come into the ring, threw him the moment he could, to end the disgusting spectacle. It is hardly probable Hackenschmidt will ever get another chance to wrestle in America. About the only really interesting thing about the match was that the moving pictures of the bout which ended at 4 o'clock were exhibited in a local theater last night at 8 o'clock. They show how thoroughly Gotch mastered
the Russian.

Forced To Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There is a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovey cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R.
Nelson of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed, and I gained forty-seven pounds in weight. It surely is the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1. Trial

LATEST FAD IN N. H. S. SEAL

Every High School student in Newark will be interested in the High School seals which Haynes Bros., the on display. The colleges have always had the seals and now many of the High Schools have adopted a seal which every student wears as a most cherished article of adornment.
They are made up in rings, pins, cuff buttons, stickpins and fobs. The Newark seal consists of the emblem of the candle and book, with the Latin inscription, "Tibi seris, tibi meli." Haynes Bros. have a splendid assortment. They come in the gold-filled, gold-plated, solid gold and silver. The pins run from 50c.
to $2.50, the stickpins are $1.50, cuff
buttons, $1.50, the rings from $1.50
to $5.00, and the leather fobs set with the seal are 50c. 30-1-5

and home owner, since the application of the law lessens the burden of the latter class who have heretofore borne the major portion of taxation. While the law is not strictly construed as a labor measure, it places at the disposal of the great mass of people advantages that have been sought for during many years past and what is beneficial to the people must certainly benefit the toiler.

In addition to the laws above enumerated, the powers and authority of the Workshop Inspection Department have been straightened and broadened so as to better enable it to prosecute its work in looking after the safety, sanitary and health conditions of the tens of thousands of employees under its care and supervision. In the enactment of Labor Laws the Ohio toiler has fared reasonably well, at the hands of a fair General Assembly and with the co-operation of a fair and considerate Chief Executive, and from that point of view, can rejoice in the knowledge of having made remarkable progress during the year just past.

Labor Day Notes.

The police department made a good showing in the parade though two of the regular officers were not in the ranks. One man was sick and another one of the wagonmen did not have a helmet to correspond with the uniforms worn by the patrolmen.

No organization in the parade aside from the members of the Old Guard, attracted more favorable comment than the boys drum corps. They were attired in novel uniforms and their music was of a very high class.

The local organization of union musicians may well be proud of the showing made in the parade. The two bands were good considering that a regular organization has not been maintained for some time.

A large aggregation of foreigners under the name of the Roumanian Beneficial society, caused much surprise along the line of march. Many of the Newark people did not realize that there were as many foreigners in the city.

The glass bottle workers carried a large flag in the parade, eight men being required, three on each end and two along the sides.

The street cleaning department which is composed of union teamsters, had the entire street cleaning paraphernalia in the parade. One of the floats showed the process of renewing the broom on the big street sweepers and was very interesting.

Perhaps the prettiest float in the parade was that of Stewart Brothers & Alward. The company's big wagon was beautifully trimmed and a handsome iron bed with all the necessary coverings, etc., was mounted thereon.

Emmet McDaniels says he will not forget Labor Day 1911 for a good long time to come. He thinks he has good reasons for remembering it.

The electricians were neatly attired in blue shirts and corduroy trousers. They made a nice appearance.

It was not difficult to recognize the plumbers as each one carried a long piece of nickel-plated pipe with a nicked faucet at the top.

The brewers each wore a small bunch of hops in the lapel of his coat.

The glass bottle workers' float was one of the most interesting in the parade. It was an immense affair with every sized bottle made in the local plant represented. The boys on the float had a good time throughout the line of march.

Gus Kearn advertised his turtle soup in a novel manner. A huge turtle, frozen in a chunk of ice was mounted on a wagon and it attracted considerable attention.

The members of the Old Guard from Newark and Columbus, about 75 or 100 in number, made a neat appearance in the parade and the marching was in true military style. The old boys were attired in new uniforms purchased by popular subscription from the citizens of Newark. This is a permanent organization now and counting the drum corps, there were 50 in line, 36 under arms and 14 in the drum corps.

The Newark company is under command of Captain Matt Bausch, First Lieutenant Rufus Putnam, and Second Lieutenant Amos Lee. The Columbus company was 61 strong and was under command of Captain W. W. Miller. The Columbus contingent is Co. A, and the Newark company is Co. B, both of the first battalion. The Newark company is the second organization of this kind in the United States, and as one of the members of the company remarked, every one has smelled powder on the battle field. It is the intention to organize another company in Ohio in the near future in order to have a battalion.

Edward Gilbert, deputy state fire marshal, Louis Deutsch and John Fitterer led the glass blowers union in the Labor Day parade. The boys made a fine appearance and their "float" was one of the best in the parade.

The display of flags throughout all portions of the city was a sure index of the respect and honor for Labor Day by Newark citizens of all classes.

The Improved Order of Red Men were certainly an attraction in their characteristic uniform.

The band boys were credit to the whole affair and they show what Newark possesses in the way of material for an organization of talented musicians.

Newark never had a more creditable parade in all her history.

The weather man was real considerate in holding the rain off till today.

The boys did honor to the day as well as their city.

Labor Day was not only observed—it was honored.

A substantial Franklin township farmer remarked: It was a pleasure to come to Newark to see such a creditable parade. It speaks well for the city as well as the occasion.

It was the largest turn out of printers the city has ever witnessed.

Visitors from other cities were universal in their praise of Newark and her citizens.

The electrical workers won the prize for the neatest appearance in the Labor Day parade yesterday. Four organizations claimed the highest percentage of members in the parade and the prize was not awarded. The secretary of each local will make a report to the committee next Thursday evening when the prize will be awarded.

A COWARDLY EGG.

"And what kind of an egg might that be?" asked an attentive listener.

BUCKEYE LAKE WAS THE MECCA FOR THOUSANDS

Visiting with the Labor Day program of elaborate proportions that was given in Newark, Buckeye Lake drew enormous crowds all day Monday and until late Monday evening, and the park had one of the largest days of the present season.

Labor Day generally marks the last "big" day of the summer season and preparations were made to take care of a great number of people and every means was exhausted by evening.

The weather both Sunday and Monday was ideal and the lake was like a sheet of glass and was perfect for the regatta which was held. A large membership of the Buckeye Lake Yacht Club was present and a veritable love feast was in session during the day.

From early morning the large suburban cars carried vast crowds from Newark and all points east of the city as far as Zanesville, and from Columbus and other western cities the caring for the large numbers of people proved a tax to the capability of the railway company.

Many of the cottagers who remained at their cottages in order to avail themselves of the holiday, will now begin to leave. The majority of the summer residents are families in which are children attending school, and the summer colony has about exhausted itself for 1911.

However, many day picnics will be given there, and the transient crowds will find it a delightful spot for an outing during the month of September.

Two injured in motor-cycle races.

Charles McGough Wins Cup by Taking Last Four Races—Large Crowd at Mount Builders Park to Witness Events.

An immense crowd attended the motorcycle races Labor Day afternoon, the first of its kind to be held in Newark. The cup was won by Charles McGough, who drove a Yale motorcycle. Two of the contestants were injured in the races.

Carl Jones in practicing ran into a soft place in the track, his machine was sent wobbling into the fence and he suffered a bad cut in right leg. Barrel Schenk ran into the fence in the second race and his hand was badly injured.

The first race, a three-mile chain drive, was won by Walter Kussmaul, time 31:45. His machine was an Indian.

In the second race, a three-mile belt drive, four horse power, Will Gallagher won with a Yale machine.

Charles McGough won the 1-2 mile novice race, the miss-and-out race, the five mile free-for-all, and the ten mile club championship on a Yale motorcycle. This gave McGough the cup. Other prizes were furnished by the different bicycle shops in the city.

Cincinnati: Five-year-old Alvin Heinichen fell out of a third story window. His widowed mother leaped after him. Neither was seriously hurt.

APPOINTED PRINCIPAL OF ATHENS SCHOOL

Prof. J. M. Marriott Accepts Position And Will Start Saturday For New-Field of Labor.

Mr. J. C. Marriott, assistant principal of the Newark High School and instructor of mathematics has been notified of his appointment as principal of the high school at Athens, O., and leaves for there Saturday.

Mr. Marriott has been teaching in the Newark High School for the past several years, and has been highly efficient, and this promotion is but the worthy recognition of his work.

Mr. Marriott was notified on Monday evening of his appointment by the superintendent of the Athens schools and today he wired his acceptance of the position which brings with it a greatly increased salary.

Mr. Marriott has handed in his resignation as instructor in the Newark school to the Board of Education and it will undoubtedly be acted on at tonight's meeting of the board.

Mr. Marriott will at once begin upon his new duties. He will probably take up his permanent residence there and within a few days his successor will be appointed in the High School here.

COOK HAS LEFT.

LOST THREE FINGERS OF RIGHT HAND

C. Keller, foreman of the press room at the Holophane plant in East Newark, suffered the loss of three fingers on his right hand in an accident Saturday at the plant. A piece of metal lodged between the rollers of a machine operated by one of the men and Keller was called to remove the obstruction. His foot touched the wrong pedal while working at the machine and the index, middle and ring finger of his right hand were drawn into the machine and horribly mangled. He was hurried to the Sanitarium where surgeons removed the three fingers. He was taken home Sunday and is resting as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

STOP THAT DANDRUFF

before it kills your hair. You know dandruff is a germ disease and it leads slowly and surely to baldness and there is only one way to cure dandruff and that is to kill the germs that causes the trouble.

Greasy salves will never do this. ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP kills the germ and are guaranteed to cure dandruff, itching scalp and all other germ diseases of the skin and scalp.

ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP are the true scientific remedies for these afflictions. To show our faith in ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP we have instructed the druggist selling them to refund your money if you are not satisfied with the results from the very first bottle and the first cake of soap.

We can afford to make this offer because one bottle of Zemo and one cake of soap are sufficient to show their healing qualities and if used according to directions they will effect a permanent cure.

Sold by druggists everywhere and in Newark by Evans' Drug Store.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Some Fish That Picked Berries

The Fish Jumped at the Huckleberries

"CAN'T I go a-fishing tomorrow with the Bunce boys?" asked Jack as soon as his father came in that evening. Jack's mother had said no because she was afraid so small a boy might tumble into the water and be drowned.

"Why do you want to go fishing?" asked daddy as he raked his brain for an appropriate bedtime story.

"Because so I can catch some fish. The other boys do."

"Why do you want to catch those poor little fish? You can't eat that kind anyway. Why not let the minnows stay in the water, where they can have a good time?"

This was a new view of the fish case to Jack and Evelyn.

"You never saw a fish have a good time? I'll tell you, though, what a friend of mine who went fishing the other day in Massachusetts said that he saw."

"Oh," they said and looked at one another.

"There blueberry bushes grow quite close to the brooks, the branches often hanging down over the water. Well, my friend had chosen a nice quiet place where he thought the fishes would be sure to bite. Soon he saw a couple of fish, pickerel they were, come swimming to the top of the water. One of them poked its head out of the water, and my friend says he is sure it was looking about to find a berry bush. It never looked at his hook, which was baited with a nice young minnow, of which pickerel are said to be fond. After the look around the fish swam upstream. Then it turned and came hurrying down again. Mr. Fisherman wondered what could be the matter. He almost dropped into the water himself when he saw that fish make a jump for the blueberry bushes. Just behind came another fish that also jumped for the blueberry bush. Did the fishes get any berries that time? Well, my friend thinks they did, for they seemed to be eating something that they found good. You know how good blueberries are, don't you, children, especially in blueberry pie? Well, the fishes made several visits to the bush, and my friend was so busy watching them that he forgot all about his line, and the first thing he knew it was in the water and floating down stream, minnow and all. So he had to go home without any fish, but the story he told of the berry picking fish made a greater hit than any catch that he has ever taken. And, what is more, he says that the story is true."

"So, children, you see you can't always judge by looks. Slow and dull as he looks, the fish is smart enough to know a good thing when he sees it, which is more than some human beings know."

It is a task that does not address itself to Americans, because when we project something one day we wish to see it well developed the next morning. It is a task that appeals rather to the thorough German or to the patient Frenchman, for he is patient in the country, but we have got to come to a knowledge of the fact that we are growing to be an old country, with the responsibility of an old country, and that we have got to abide nature's time in doing the things that we ought to do if we seek the aid of nature in restoring that which we have extravagantly wasted. —President Taft.

NO DYSPEPSIA STOMACH GAS OR HEARTBURN

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapapsin and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out of order stomach in five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapapsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapapsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes is waiting for you at our drug store.

These large 50 cent cases contain more sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

SCHOOL OPENS TUESDAY FOR THE FALL SEMESTER; ADDRESS OF SUPT. HAWKINS

All the schools of the city resumed work today after three months' summer vacation. The enrollment in all the buildings of the city was in excess of the year of the previous school year.

There was no regular work done in the grammar grades, the time being given over to the arranging of classes and the selection of books to be used during the year.

At the high school only 15 minute periods were held and the entire schedule was gone over this morning and there was no session held during the afternoon. The new regime at the high school, which includes about eight new teachers and the new principal, was inaugurated and things moved steadily for the opening day.

Superintendent Hawkins began his active work as superintendent of the schools today, and within the week the wheels which grind out the knowledge of childhood will be working smoothly.

The teachers of the city met at the High School building Monday morning for the purpose of meeting the new superintendent, Wilson Hawkins, and discussing the plans for the ensuing year.

Shortly after the meeting had been called to order and after Mr. Hawkins had personally met the teachers he addressed them as follows:

How the Superintendent Tests the Value of the Teacher.

An immense sum is expended annually in payment of the salaries of the school superintendents of the nation. The duties of this official are arduous and manifold. In most cases he must not only be an educator, but a business man, a clerk, a politician, in short he must be able to fit into all manner of affairs, and at least have a superficial knowledge of every class of business found in his community. His resources must go beyond his profession if he will be of the greatest service in arousing and winning the support of his community to his system of schools—I would not argue that things should be so, but the fact remains that they are, and thus the superintendent must do his professional work more or less at odds and ends, and if he is a thoroughly equipped person, he can do so with great effectiveness. The superintendent should be able to test the value of a teacher's work; first, because in many states the appointment of teachers rests in the hands of the superintendent. In all cases the board holds him responsible for both the good and the bad results in the school under his charge. Therefore, the "Value of the Teacher" as tested by the superintendent is important to the board, for its action will be based upon the estimate of the Superintendent, important to the superintendent for his tenure of office will depend upon the results attained by the teachers recommended by him, important to the teachers because their positions will depend largely upon the good or bad judgment of the superintendent.

A Hard Task.

To test the value of the teacher's work is no easy task. "Nature so intertwines herself with the art of teaching that it is difficult to prove her inner processes."

It has been said that we may as well try to catch the sunbeams and tell what part is bud, leaf, or fruit, as to measure the teacher's work in all its relations.

The First Test.

It is written, "by their fruits ye shall know them," and we maintain that the first test of a teacher's value is found in the results attained regardless of the "how." This is a case in which "the end justifies the means." But if the superintendent expects to measure the teacher by results, he then must know the conditions under which the teacher works. It is folly to expect the best results from that teacher whose school room is crowded, unventilated and dark, with double seats, unsightly or greasy stained walls, and probably a large percentage of her pupils without the necessary clothing to keep them warm, or food to give them bodily vigor. Folly will be equally great if he expect the same high results from teachers whose pupils come from that section of the city, noted for its vice and dissipation, as we get from teachers whose pupils come from the most cultured sections. Thus many things might be mentioned, each having its influence upon the results obtained by the teacher, and the superintendent must consider all when estimating the "value" of his teachers. So we conclude that the first necessary step to the superintendent in testing the value of his teachers is to acquaint himself thoroughly, with the conditions under which each teacher works. Ignorant of these conditions he has no right, nor is he capable to dictate either the amount or method of instruction to be given—knowing these conditions it is his right to both require certain results and to outline the methods to be pursued in getting them.

The Superintendent Must Observe.

When we stand before the artisan and see him take the rough steel and hammer and pound, and mold it into shape, we can test his work, and skill by the way he handles his tools. So with the superintendent in order to test the power and skill of the teacher. He must see her at work. He can best tell how the work is done by seeing it done. I consider it all wrong that the superintendent should be made as is often the case, a mere business manager and office keeper, whose highest duties seem to be to copy records, order supplies, look after needed repairs, entertain book agents and other visitors.

To have a true idea of the teacher's work he must see that teacher actually engaged in teaching. "If he wishes to know 'how well' the teaching is done he must know 'how' it is done. Written reports from teachers may help him to this knowledge, but to depend upon this alone is quite unsafe. Having passed through a normal school, or school of pedagogy, the teacher may know the language of the best authors, may be using approved and scientific methods, and yet, that teacher with all her knowledge of psychology and pedagogy, and what not, may have never aroused the pupils' minds to respond. She may know all the laws and processes, conditions and exceptions, which the psychologist enumerates, yet if she be not able to detect in the mind itself the effect and result of their application, she is as much at sea as is the novice.

Practice vs. Theory.

Certainly we believe that the teacher should know the laws of mental growth and development; she should have a knowledge of psychology and pedagogy; she should be acquainted with the best methods and devices; these are the tools with which she works, yet, if she have not that God-given power of looking beyond rules and methods into the mind of the child, noting the changes there taking place, resultant of all her instruction, she is plodding in darkness.

We have seen teachers who may have never heard of Pestalotz; Froebel, or Rousseau, who know nothing about the rules and formulas of psychology, yet, somehow, in some way, their methods "though stripped of all pedagogical raiment," have within them that vital spark that sets on fire the craving mind of the child; and within herself is the power of feeling the influence of her instruction, thereby moulding and shaping the pupil as she may desire. Such cases are not usual, I admit. Generally, we expect the best results from the best trained teachers, but there are exceptions, and the superintendent who would put a value on the teacher must know not only what that teacher's training has been, but also the results of her efforts upon the pupil mind, for this is the crucial test of all teaching. How to discover the effect of instruction upon the mind and heart of the pupil is the most difficult question to the superintendent in testing the teacher's value. The child has many teachers, each in her turn making impressions never to be blotted out. Hereditary influence has done its work—home training has left its mark upon the character of the child; environment has been exerting its marvelous power; in fact everything which the child has done since the day of its birth has left its impress upon the soul. Thus it is easily seen that to pick out just what the teacher has done is a task, at which the most skillful may pause.

Remote Results.

The result of instruction upon the pupil mind are not instant in their manifestations. But slowly and surely they will reveal themselves in the behavior of the pupil. When reading or studying the character of some grand man, I have sometimes stopped to meditate upon the influences which molded it. Imagination will bring to view the school and its teacher—the teacher may be ignorant of the science of his work, but is an artist in its execution—I can hear the encouraging word, and see him giving instruction that is ultimately to prove itself teaching of the highest order.

Through long years, it may be generations, the seed planted has been developing, and the beautiful life about which I have been reading is the result. Then I think of the opportunities of the teacher—but another and sad thought forces itself upon me. I pick up the daily paper, and there I read of a foul crime, committed by one who has passed through the best public schools, and who has had for his instructors the best skilled in the profession. Then I think of the responsibility of the teacher. Mark I do not say that this is a result of his teacher's work, but it may be the consequence of absence of that special kind of instruction that was best suited to counteract the downward tendency of that particular individual. Here is where the insight of the teacher must show itself. All of us can make a survey of our teacher, and to a certain extent define the results of the instruction of each upon our character. It is quite easy to test the value of the teacher from a retrospective point of view. But the problem of testing the teacher is not one of looking backward. Present conditions alone confront him. He knows that where there are "results" there must be corresponding "causes." In the teacher and tests the effects of the "causes" in the teacher, by immediate "results" on the pupils. What then are the "causes" that the superintendent should reasonably expect to find in a valuable teacher?

The Teacher Should be a Scholar.

First, he will expect her to be a scholar. No teacher who has not a well trained mind is capable of training the mind of another. The teacher should have a thorough knowledge of those branches which she expects to teach, and in order to properly correlate work required in her grade with work previously done, and to follow, she should have a good general knowledge of all branches in the system.

have no faith in the idea that the primary teacher should know only primary methods of instruction. The scholarship of the teacher will show itself in the thinking power of the

Further, the Superintendent expects the teacher not only to have a high degree of scholarship, but he expects her to continue to be a student. One of the oldest and best instructors in an Ohio college when asked recently, how he kept his high reputation at so advanced an age, something few public school teachers can do, answered with emphasis, "I have always been a student. I am now, and always expect to be." The moment a teacher ceases to be a student the summit of the hill has been reached, and the descent has begun. But how shall the scholarship of the teacher be tested by the superintendent? To some extent by an examination of the teacher. Better, however, by hearing her conduct the recitation. The explanation she gives; the illustrations she imparts; the language she uses; and many other lesser things; all these go to prove her thoroughness. Then, again by examination of the pupils. The "way" he knows the subjects taught, his power to think upon new subjects related to those already taught him—in short the breadth of view which he displays "for the intellect of the teacher will show itself in the knowledge of the pupil."

Skilled in Method.

Next to scholarship, the greatest 'cause' in the teacher, looked for by the superintendent, is "skill in methods." Methods broad enough to reach out to the whole school, yet flexible enough to touch the individual; methods in harmony with child nature; based upon the laws and principles of growth, moral, physical; methods that not only furnish knowledge, but arouse thought, methods that take into consideration both the past and present conditions of the child; methods that vary with the subject taught, and the age of the children; methods that give the child the power of passing from the individual to the general, and the reverse; methods of instruction based upon these broad principles will be productive of such results in the children as may be easily and accurately detected. "Their condition will not be one of passive reception, but of earnest self exertion." They will not shrink at the first trial of strength but be induced to other and severer trials; one difficulty over come will be a stimulus to triumph over harder and severer tasks; they will be interested in study, curiosity will be excited, inquisitiveness promoted, investigation prompted, and self-confidence inspired.

Skill in Discipline.

The superintendent will expect the teacher to have skill in discipline—good scholarship, and good method, will do much toward securing good discipline, and failure here means almost total failure. It is not of great concern to the superintendent to know whether the teacher knows what good discipline is, but it is vitally important to him to know whether she gets right results as a disciplinarian. To know this he must go to her school and apply the test to the pupils, themselves. He must know their conduct in the school room, on the play ground, on the street, at home, at church, etc.

Discipline means more than merely an art of keeping order. It includes the habits of study. Thus the recitation becomes a test of the discipline, for it is in the recitation that the pupil must give an account of not only how he has spent the study period, but the method of study he has pursued.

Tact.

The superintendent will expect the teacher to display tact. "Talent is something, but tact," etc. "We may rest assured that the teacher who is constantly annoyed by the pranks of her pupils: who receives discourteous notes from parents: who is daily having difficulties with pupils: who fishes material for gossip in the community; who sends irate parents to the office of superintendent or principal, is weak. Though she may speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have mastered psychology and pedagogy, she has no tact, and is of no value to any school. If the teacher has tact, there will be no outbreaks, no exaggerated stories, no law suits.

Interest.

The teacher must have ability to arouse interest. Best results cannot be secured except the interest of the individual pupil is aroused. This, too, will manifest itself in the pupil. The attention he gives; the questions he asks; the answers he volunteers; the slight he displays in learning new things; the truths that he discovers for himself; the eagerness with which he attends to all his school duties; all these are certain tests not only of his interest, but of the interest displayed by his instructor.

Character Builder.

The superintendent will expect the valuable teacher to be a builder of moral character—the teacher may be a thorough scholar and excellent disciplinarian; she may have the ability to arouse interest and to instruct in accordance with the most approved and scientific methods. She may have a part or all of these qualifications which we have mentioned, yet if her teaching does not carry with it that which tends to noble characters of her pupils, she has failed indeed. But how shall this qualification of the teacher be tested? First, the superintendent must know the character of the teacher herself. If she be "weighed in the balance and found wanting," it is unnecessary that this test should proceed farther; for as a rule the character of the teacher will be reflected in the characters of the pupils. Here is a rule that those who examine teachers may well consider. Teachers who are guilty of dishonesty in examinations; who are dishonest in their business relations; who have questionable habits; these have not the right, nor should they be licensed to stand before a school, the ideal for children.

But let us come back to our topic: "The teacher as a builder of character."

We have said that the valuable teacher will have within her certain 'causes' and that these will be followed by corresponding results in the pupils. Among these causes we have mentioned scholars, method, discipline, tact, interest. Now we believe that if added to these causes is a good moral character on the part of the teacher, the moral instruction in that school will be by no means poor. For is it not true that right methods of discipline afford valuable moral training? That as methods of instruction have been improved moral efficiency has been increased. There is enough material for moral instruction in the several branches of study without resorting to a special text on ethics, or setting aside a special time in the day to lecture on what is good and what is bad. But let us hasten with our test from the teacher to the pupil. It is unnecessary to analyze the traits of a good moral character—we all know these. Suffice it is to say, that if the moral instruction has been what it should be, we shall expect to find these traits developed to a certain extent in the character of the pupils.

Public Opinion.

The superintendent cannot trust much to public opinion or to pupils' opinions in making up his estimate of the teacher—public opinion is seldom against the good teacher, but we know that it does not always oppose the poor one. Expressions of the approval from parents count but little—they may have been deceived by false records and a flattering tongue. The opinion of pupils should be given but little weight—laziness in discipline and easy tasks, and high grades, usually delight them, and yet they are not deceived although they do not confess it. Thus we conclude as we began, that the greatest test of a teacher's work lies in the results she gets; that to obtain the best results, the teacher must possess certain native gifts, and to these must be added many acquired qualifications. All her teaching will be reflected in the lives and character of the pupils.

Finally and above all other qualifications of the successful teacher is that of strong personality—a personality that is more than splendid physique and beautiful facial features—that is able to see an opportunity, that is powerful in a lack of best conditions or best environment—a personality that can win in the time of crisis, and that will not act the coward in the battle front—a personality like that exemplified by the King's son in Rowland Hill's wonderful poem on opportunity:

OPPORTUNITY.

This I beheld, or dreamed it in a dream:—

There spread a cloud of dust along a plain;

And underneath the cloud, or in it

A furious battle, and men yelled, and

swords

Shocked upon swords and shields. A prince's banner

Wavered, then staggered backward,

hemmed by foes.

A craven lung along the battle's edge

And thought:—'Had I a sword

keen as steel—'

The blade that the king's son

bears—but this—

Blunt thing—"he snapt" and flung

it from his hand,

And lowering crept away and left the field.

Then came the king's son, wounded,

sore bested

And weaponless saw the broken

sword,

Hilt-buried in the dry and trodden

sand,

And ran and snatched it, and with

battle shout

Lifted afresh he heaved his enemy

down.

And saved a great cause that heric

day.

FUNERAL SERVICE OF JOSEPH DUKE

(Wellsville, N. Y., News.)

At the home of Mrs. O. P. Taylor in Pleasant street, at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, funeral services were held over the remains of the late Joseph Duke. The home was filled with relatives, friends and associates of the deceased, and the large and beautiful floral offerings bore evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Duke was held.

The service was conducted by Rev. W. Howard Mills, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a communicant, assisted by Rev. Charles Filson, of the Broad street church, with Masonic services, under the direction of Wellsville Lodge No. 230, F. and A. M.

Dr. Ward T. Sutherland, as chaplain of the Masonic lodge, read the lodge minutes at the house and the grave. Dr. W. F. Sparag acting as master. After the Masonic rites at the grave, Rev. Mills read the church consolatory service.

Wellsville Lodge No. 230, F. and A. M., attended the service in a body, as did also the Grand Duke Hose Co., of which latter organization Mr. Duke was president at the time of his death. The other companies of the Wellsville fire department were also largely represented.

Joseph Duke, whose death was the result of an elevator accident in the Hotel Plaza, at Havana, Cuba, Aug. 23, was a life long resident of Wellsville. He was born here Dec. 19, 1839, and was a son of Grant Duke and Anna B. Taylor-Duke. He was married in October, 1897, to Miss Georgianna Fitzsimmons, who survives him. He is also survived by one sister, Helen Duke Applebee, and one brother, Donald Duke of this city.

Mr. Duke was an honored member of Wellsville Lodge, No. 230, F. and A. M., Hornell Lodge of Elks, the Grand Duke Hose Co. and St. John's Episcopal church, and in each of these societies as well as in the village generally, his naturally bright and congenial presence will be sadly missed.

CHILD MORTALITY IN SUMMER

Every summer the newspapers are full of horrifying stories of the death list among infants and children and extremely old people. In nursing infants and children still being fed largely on milk this is usually due to the quality of the milk itself, and in aged people to a general weakening of the system because of extreme heat. Still, a great many of the deaths are due to digestive trouble, and these can usually be avoided by the timely use of a reliable laxative- tonic. There is no remedy for this purpose that lends itself better to the uses of children and aged people than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which for a generation has been the reliance of thousands of mothers and which is gaining in favor every year. This remedy, unlike a purgative, salt, laxative water or "infant medicine," contains nothing that is dangerous to the health of the weakest or youngest person, and its repeated use does not form a habit, as is the case with narcotic remedies for children. Go to your druggist this very day and buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle, and like thousands of other parents, keep it on hand for an emergency. You can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing:

WRIGHT AEROPLANE WITH AVIATOR ELTON IN CHARGE PAYS NEWARK A VISIT

Newark has at last been favored by the visitation of an aeroplane.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock an airship was seen sailing over the southern part of the city, following the railroad tracks in an easterly direction. It seemed to be at a height of about 2000 feet and its propellers could be heard twirling as the ship sailed majestically along. Two men could be easily discerned even at the great height at which they were flying.

Shortly afterwards a telephone message to the Advocate stated that the aeroplane had alighted in a field across the railway tracks back of the children's home.

An Advocate representative was taken to the improvised aviation field by Dr. Judson Lewis in his auto. Several scores of people from the immediate neighborhood had already arrived and within an hour the crowd had increased to at least 1200.

Supt. J. C. Kreig of the children's home had taken charge of affairs and had placed several men to guard the machine, as parts of it are of very delicate construction and every body seemed eager to handle it or examine the different apparatus.

The Advocate man was introduced to the aviators by Supt. Kreig and with them was invited to a luncheon at the home while part of a fence was being taken down that the machine might be wheeled back into a meadow to get a start from a knoll.

The aviators were Albert Elton, a Wright flier with a reputation of having pulled down quite a little prize money in the past couple of years and who won quite a few laurels at the Chicago aviation meet. His companion was A. L. Welsh, with the Wright Bros. Co. at Dayton, and who also operates an auto garage at Youngstown.

After some excellent spring chicken, coffee, ice cream and cake had been served, Mr. Elton related some of his experiences. He said they had left Dayton at 4:50 Saturday evening and had alighted at the Colum-

bias Driving Park 58 minutes later, a distance of 70 miles. They left Columbus shortly after 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and encountered bad headwinds all the way a fact which caused them to make a landing. They kept a sharp lookout for a good spot and observing the sloping knoll decided that it would be an ideal place for a start when they were again ready to ascend. They landed easily, without a jolt or jar, making about a 60-foot run after hitting the ground.

Aviator Elton stated that they were up about 3000 feet and that it was terribly cold, enough to cause them to shiver. He said that they had taken the height in an endeavor to get away from bad winds. Aviators are always careful at a height of from 50 to 100 feet, as it is then that they encounter the difficult winds that interfere with flying. Mr. Elton was in the air at Chicago and his 3000 feet directly above Aviator Badger when he was dashed to his death in the pit.

Both Messrs. Elton and Welsh discussed the many fatalities that have occurred to birdmen and told of instances that had caused the mishaps. The former at one time had made a height of 5500 feet and was descending when his engine went "dead." He braced himself and made a glide to earth, stopping within a few feet of a large tree which might have wrecked his machine and dashed him to his death. "Aviators must take many chances and they must possess cool nerve, for they need it in many instances," said Mr. Elton. "If you once make one flight you will want to make another and you will consider it the sport of all sports."

When the luncheon had been concluded the aviators were loud in their praises of Supt. Kreig's hospitality and offered to take the genial superintendent up for a little "aerial joy ride," but that gentlemen declined with thanks and then they stated that they would give the children and spectators a treat by circling the field after they had made the ascension.

The party repaired to the field, the machine was turned and run up the hill, and the work of clearing the crowd back to avoid danger caused some delay. Public Safety Director Scott, Capt. Chas. Swank and several officers in plain clothes assisted in the work.

Before starting the engine Messrs. Elton and Welsh again thanked Superintendent Kreig for his hospitality and kindness and stated that they had been treated royally and would always remember their visit to Newark. They then gave him an autograph card for a remembrance and also personally thanked Dr. Judson Lewis for courtesies extended.

The engines were started and taking their seats to the left of the engine the birdmen waved a farewell, turned on the power and they were off. The airship, a Model B Wright flier, skidded across the ground for a distance of about forty feet and then began climbing into the air. It was a beautiful and thrilling sight as the big machine arose like a bird, going toward the river and clearing the tallest trees by a close margin. They then went east and making a turn, came back and encircled the field, thus keeping their promise to Supt. Kreig.

Making a turn with the ship at an angle of about 45 degrees, they kept climbing higher and higher until at an altitude of about 2000 feet when they headed east along the railway tracks and were soon out of view. It had been their intention to try and make Coshocton, for the winds, which took them slightly off night, but they encountered stiff their course, and they landed at Trinway in the evening at 6:25 o'clock.

Aviator Elton is after a passenger-carrying record, but the fact was not made public when he left Dayton. He is flying his own machine, for which he paid $5000, and is flying it to his home at Youngstown, the first instance on record where a machine had been purchased a factory and started on an overseas flight to the home of the purchaser.

Those who made the trip to the home to witness the flight were certainly well repaid for their trouble, and all were loud in their praise of the nifty birdmen who were the first to visit Newark and Licking county in an aeroplane.

ELTON REACHES DESTINATION.
Youngstown, Sept. 5.—Albert Elton, aviator of this city, completed his flight with a passenger here from Dayton at 10:20 Monday morning, making the last leg from Trinway. The total distance covered was 147 miles. He made stops at Canton and Salem before landing here. Yesterday afternoon in an exhibition flight he slightly damaged one of his planes and in landing struck a woman, but did not injure her.

AVIATOR'S NECK BROKEN.
Chicago, Sept. 5.—Alexander McLeod, aged 28, of Winnipeg, Canada, a pupil at a Chicago School of Aviation, was fatally injured here yesterday when he fell several hundred feet from an aeroplane at a practice field in West Pullman. His neck was broken and he suffered internal injuries.

BREAKS ALTITUDE RECORD.
Parame, France, Sept. 5.—Roland G. Garos, the French aviator, broke the world's record for altitude in an aeroplane. He ascended 4250 metres (13,943 feet). The achievement of M. Garos bettered Lincoln Beachey's height record made in Chicago Aug. 20 by 2365 feet.

Garos is well known in American aviation circles, having appeared at meets in several American cities, including Richmond, Memphis, New Orleans, Oklahoma City and San Antonio.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

youth parried, dodged, qualified during the entire cross-examination, using a positive statement only when he had to, and seeming to fail to understand certain questions popped at him with embarrassing speed in order to gain time. He proved by far the best witness that the defense has put on the stand. Though during the course of his examinations he had to admit certain actions that would be embarrassing for any man to own to, he did it with a self-confidence that raked only the end to be achieved. In two points, however, the prosecutor brought the ready defense of the prisoner to the ground. These were upon the facts of his relations with Seulah Binford, and in the matter of the physical facts attending the murder of Mrs. Beattie as set forth in the prisoner's story of that fatality.

Upon both these issues the accused made admissions which fully tally with the theory of the prosecution or blundered into sticking by assertions widely at variance with physical possibilities.

Climax Is Unexpected.

The climax to the long strain in the little courtroom came unexpectedly about a half hour before the judge adjourned court. Then in the little cleared space not more than three feet wide, where the dense jam that had filled the courtroom all day started to give the witness room to place his feet, bits of gruesome drama were spilled while all the courtroom held its breath.

Beattie had endeavored to indicate to the prosecutor just how he had held the body of his wife after she had been shot by the bearded highwayman, who he says was the assassin. He spread out his left hand and indicated with his right the motion of manipulating the steering wheel of an automobile.

"There, take that little boy," commanded Wendenburg, "and show the jury by using his body just how you supported your wife in the automobile after she had been shot."

A bare-footed little farmer boy, who had been acting as copy-runner for the reporters, drew hastily away from the young man in the chair as he stretched out his hand to seize him. Then the impulse to be the center of all eyes overcame the lad's timidity and he allowed Beattie to circle his waist with his arm. Beattie's left hand spread out across his back just above the buttons on his cut-down trousers.

"So that is how you supported your wife's body after she was shot? I ask you to look at the left sleeve of this shirt, which you wore on the night of the murder and tell me if you see any blood on it." Wendenburg passed the shirt to Beattie.

The witness touched it gingerly, and as he turned it over and over the muscles of his cheeks kept pulsing.

RHEUMATISM IS CURABLE

Nature Has Provided a Way of Driving the Poison from the Blood Which Is the Only Cure.

In attacks of acute rheumatism there is a rapid thinning of the blood, the number of red corpuscles are reduced. These red corpuscles carry oxygen which is the weapon with which nature fights poisons in the blood.

Without proper treatment the rheumatic poisons in the blood increase and the body's means of defence is weakened. A remedy that will increase the number of red corpuscles under these conditions will cure rheumatism.

The direct action of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is to increase the red corpuscles in the blood, making it rich and red. Any doctor can prove this. It is merely a matter of microscopic count. And any sufferer can tell that as the blood becomes richer the rheumatic pains disappear. Mr. Richard Kelly, a night watchman, of No. 124 Auburn place, Rockford, Ill., says:

"I suffered from rheumatism for a number of years and was so bad off at times that I had to take to bed. The trouble followed an attack of typhoid fever, when I was a young man, which left me in bad shape. The rheumatism settled in my right shoulder and arm, great deal and often when ploughing in the field would have to stop and lie down as the pains were so intense and came on so suddenly. I also had a very bad cough for years and my friends said it was consumption."

"I took the doctor's medicine for a while, but as it wasn't helping me I gave it up. I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and gave them a trial. After taking a few boxes I could see they were helping me and I took them until cured. I had not been much of a believer in doctors and medicines but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People certainly cured me of both the rheumatism and the cough."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are on sale at all druggists, or they will be sent to any address by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

A valuable booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free upon request.

He found no blood on the sleeve.

"Yet you say that when your wife was shot, you felt her head on your left shoulder?" Wendenburg drove the question. "Look at the left shoulder of that shirt and point out to me any blood spot that was made when her head touched your shoulder." Again the witness pawed the bloody relic uncertainly. There was no blood on the shoulder.

"I think I may have had my coat on when the murder occurred," Beattie finally managed to say. "I am not sure whether it was on then or whether I put it on later when I got out to light my lamps."

Wendenburg directed Sheriff Gill to dive into the old jacket Beattie had worn on the night his wife was slain. While the sheriff was rummaging Beattie wiped his forehead with a handkerchief that was rolled up into a hard ball. He reached eagerly for a glass of water. Then when the brown jacket was handed to him he stood up divested himself of his neat blue serge jacket and put on the other.

Prisoner Cranes His Neck.

"Now look on the left breast and the left shoulder of that jacket," Wendenburg commanded, "and point out to the jury the blood spots that were made when your wife's head fell against you, as you have said." Beattie craned his neck to look at the shoulder and sleeve. There were no dark stains there, although one could be seen in the middle of the back and another near the tail of the coat at the back.

The cross-questioner then wanted to have Beattie show the jury just how he had disposed of his wife's body in the car after he had returned from grappling with the highwayman and had started his machine homeward.

"I found my wife's body lying over the left seat with her head in my seat to the right," Beattie said. "I laid her body so that her feet were hanging out over the left running board. The middle of the body was on the left seat and my left arm was around her. Her head was hanging over in her lap like that," he said, illustrating the position.

"You are sure her head was hanging over in her lap?" Wendenburg was getting ready to clinch this point. "Yes, sure, and my left arm, was around her waist as I drove with my right hand."

"If it should appear in evidence in this case that there was not a bit of blood on the front of your wife's dress would you still say that her head was hanging in her lap?"

"If you will let me put you over two chairs, Mr. Wendenburg, I will show you what I mean," Beattie answered in evasion. The prosecutor said that he would not.

Another difficult tack for Beattie to follow was that steered by Wendenburg when he questioned the young man minutely upon the relative distances between the car and the bearded assailant who had stepped so suddenly from the side of the road. First he wanted to know how brightly the lamps were shining on the car that night. Beattie thought not brightly enough to reveal any object in the road more than a few yards ahead.

Beattie said that he had not seen the man with the gun until he was within six feet in front of the car to the right. "From the ditch to the middle of the road which you were traveling is over 11 feet. How does it happen that you did not see the man step to the middle of the road?" "I don't know. I guess I was not expecting him."

"When did you first see the gun in the man's hands?" "After the car stopped. I stopped because I thought I was going to run over him."

The witness could not answer satisfactorily why it was that with the margin of the road left to him he had not run past the intruder. Nor could he explain why, when he stopped suddenly to release his clutch and start the machine that the gun which he says had been covering him, should have swung up and to the right so that his wife received the charge designed for him. Another point was scored by the prosecutor right here.

He asked Beattie what his wife had said when she saw the gun pointed at him; had she screamed? No, Mrs. Beattie had just sat still, uttering not a sound.

Beattie was asked how much he

SALVATION FREE TO ALL MANKIND

John Wesley's View Linked to John Calvin's.

MISSING LINK OF HARMONY

Pastor Russell Finds It Between Election and Free Grace—He Says That Every Sinner Will Yet Have Full Opportunity to Return to Divine Favor—"River of the Water of Life" Is For the Non-Elect Alone.

PASTOR RUSSELL

years. The program is an extensive one.

During the ten days of the Convention addresses will be given by sixty ministers and instructors of the Association. The teachings are interdenominational, unsectarian. Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle, and now also of London Tabernacle, is the President of the Association. His was the principal address of today. The auditorium was crowded. Probably in compliment to Methodists, Pastor Russell took for his text what he claimed was John Wesley's favorite—"And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come; and whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely" (Revelation xxi, 17). He said:

What Wesley Could Not Believe.

Our Methodist friends who own this spacious Auditorium have generally forgotten the special teachings of Brother Wesley, which brought them to the front of his denomination at a time when Calvin's theory of the election of saints to glory and the predestination of all others to eternal torture was the basic thought of Protestantism. Brother Wesley's voice rang out clear and full—"I cannot believe that God predestinated to eternal torture the masses of mankind before they were born. I must believe that God is Love and that His love and His justice would give to every sinner a full opportunity for return to Divine favor and to everlasting life through Christ. Brother Calvin, indeed, has certain Scriptures difficult to apply, respecting election and the elect, but I have one Scripture at least which tells of a freedom of Divine grace. The river of the water of life is not declared to be for the elect, but for 'whosoever will,' I take my stand upon that text."

Brother Wesley's battle-cry—"God is Love and will surely give every member of Adam's race an opportunity for eternal life through Christ"—has come ringing down to our day. And although Christians have become sick and tired of their endeavor to harmonize the doctrines of Election and Free Grace and are now trying to forget doctrines altogether, nevertheless John Wesley's theory has overwhelmed John Calvin's. "The vast majority of Presbyterians, Baptists, Congregationalists, etc., professing Calvin's tenets, really believe Wesley's—that God is Love and will surely give every member of our race a full opportunity for salvation, and that He predestinated, none of them to eternal torture."

Truth in Both Theories.

There are elements of truth in both theories, as we now see: "The path of the just is as the shining light, which shineth more and more—unto the perfect day." We are nearing the perfect day, and hence should understand the Bible better than did our forefathers, who did not have the wonderful Bibles Christians now possess, with marginal references, concordances and other helps! Ability to read also is universal today. Oh, what number of Bible students we should be! Many Christians, however, discouraged by the inconsistencies and contradictions of the various creeds, Catholic and Protestant, have abandoned their creeds and abandoned their Bibles also, erroneously believing the latter to be the basis of the former. We must not share this mistake. While doing all in our power to remove all the creed fences which divide God's people into sects and parties, let us hold fast to the Bible, the most wonderful Book in the world. It is only beginning to be understood; its true light is shining today as never before. We are in the time mentioned by the Prophet, when the "wise shall understand" (Daniel xii, 10).

Brother Calvin was right in part—to the extent that he was in harmony with the Bible, which teaches us to strive to fulfill our Covenant with the Lord, that thus we may "make our calling and election sure." It does not teach the predestination which Calvin taught and which Wesley objected to—the predestination of the wicked to an eternity of torture. The only predestination mentioned in the Bible is connected with the Church, the saints God predestinated that none could be of the Church class, the Bride class, except such as would become copies of His Son, the Redeemer. That predestination stands unalterable, but it has no effect upon others than the elect. It merely says that none except the saintly shall participate in the election. It says not one word about the fate of the non-elect. Read Romans viii, 28-30 and you will see this for yourself. To this, the Scriptural predestination, none can object. It is the unscripural deductions which have caused us difficulty.

Brother Wesley was in exact accord with the Bible in his declaration that every member of our race must have a share in the grace of God in Christ. However, what Brother Wesley did not see was that the great Plan of the Ages is not confined to one century nor to one Age. He did not see that, while this Gospel Age is exclusively devoted to the selection of the Church class, invited to be "the Bride, the Lamb's Wife," there is a coming Age in which Christ and His glorified Bride will extend Divine mercy to the non-elect.

The Key to the Mystery

Is expressed in the Apostle's words, "in due time." Our great Creator need not be in haste. He has all eternity before Him. He allowed four thousand years to pass before He sent His Son to redeem the world and He has since taken nearly two thousand years in the selection of our Lord's elect Bride. He has appointed an additional thousand in which Jesus and His Bride, the glorified Church, will establish a reign of righteousness in the earth for the overthrow of sin and the uplifting of the sinners. Socially? Yes. Physically? Yes. Morally? Yes. Intellectually? Yes. Out of sin and death? Yes! Back to harmony with God if they will? Yes! No freer grace is imaginable than that which the Almighty has provided through the Savior. Of it St. Paul declares, "God wills to have all men to be saved and to be brought to a knowledge of the Truth." To this end He has appointed one Mediator, "who gave Himself a Ransom for all, to be testified in due time" (I Timothy ii, 4-6).

The "due time" for the Gospel call dates from Pentecost. But it is not a call for the world, but for a special class, the Bride class, to walk sacrificially in the footsteps of Jesus and to gain the great reward of joint-heirship with Him in His Kingdom. The "due time" for this work will soon be at an end—when the last probationary member of the Church shall have made his calling and election sure and when the "door into the marriage" shall shut. But the due time for the masses of mankind to hear of His grace and to respond thereto is still future, as Brother Wesley's favorite text will show us.

Before examining His text we will note the fact that three-fourths of the human family today are heathen in the most absolute sense of the word and many of the other fourth are heathen in a truthful sense. Why do they not see the grace of God in Christ? St. Paul answers, "Because the god of this world hath blinded their minds," because "darkness covers the earth and gross darkness the people" (II Corinthians iv, 4; Isaiah lx, 2).

But why does God not scatter the darkness and open all the blind eyes and unstop the deaf ears? We answer, because, although He has promised to do these very things, His due time for their accomplishment is not yet come. He merely calls His elect during this dark time, requiring them to prove their worthiness by walking faithfully in the dark: "We walk by faith and not by sight."

With the completion of the elect Church at the coming of the Redeemer—after the marriage, when she will be the Bride—then both Bridegroom and Bride will shine forth in glory, scattering all the darkness, ignorance and superstition of the world. Satan, the Prince of Darkness, will be bound and every evil thing shall be restructured and the light of the knowledge of the glory of God shall fill the earth; all the blind eyes shall be opened and all the deaf ears shall be unstopped. What will be the result? God's Word answers, that then "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess to the glory of God."

Brother Wesley's Proof Text.

Brother Wesley's loving heart found and tightly grasped the declaration, "And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come; and let him that heareth say, Come; and let him that is athirst come; and whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely" (Revelation xxi, 17). This text, however, belongs to the coming Age, to the time when Messiah shall reign: "For He must reign until He hath put all enemies under His feet" (I Corinthians xv, 25-29). There is no Bride yet to say, "Come." We are glad of this, glad that it is still possible for us to become members of that Bride class which must "make herself ready" for the marriage and be forever united to the Lord as His Bride at His second coming. Then by the marriage she will become the Redeemer's joint-heir to glory, honor and immortality in the Kingdom. Then she, in co-operation with the Spirit of the Lord, will say, "Come," to whosoever wills to come of Adam's race. Everyone will say, "Come;" there will be a world wide invitation. All the blind eyes shall be opened to see the waters of life; all the deaf ears shall be unstopped to hear of the gracious favor of God's love in Christ.

But as there is no Bride yet to say, "Come," neither is there any "river of the water of life" yet to invite them to. There will be no such river until after the establishment of the Kingdom for which the Master taught us to pray, "Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven." Jesus explains that in the present time His followers do not go to the rivers of the water of life to drink; but, on the contrary, he says, "The water that I shall give him will be in him, a well of water springing up unto everlasting life" (John iv, 14).

The New Jerusalem Symbol.

The Church in her glorified condition after the "change" of the First Resurrection, after becoming the Bride, is symbolically represented as a City, as a Government—the capital of God's Kingdom, the New Jerusalem, "which will then come to, or be established in, the earth—not a literal city, but, better, a symbolical one, of the Kingdom. It will be from under the Throne of that New Jerusalem, the Messianic Kingdom, that the "river of the water of life will flow, clear as crystal." On either bank of the symbolical river will be trees of life, whose leaves will be for the healing of the nations. Then will be their "due time" to come to a knowledge of the Truth that God loved them and did not predestinate them to eternal torture, nor to purgatorial suffering, but sent His Son to die for them—to pay their death penalty and thus to make possible their restitution to Divine favor (Acts iii, 19-21) and to all the earthly blessings, privileges and rights originally given to Father Adam—lost by his disobedience and redeemed at Calvary.

My dear friends, here we have the grandest and broadest Free Grace possible to be imagined, in connection with our Heavenly Father and His great salvation provided in Christ. As every creature shares in Father Adam's imperfection and dying conditions, so each one is to share in the merit of Christ's righteousness and sacrificial death; it shall be "testified to all in due time." There will be stripes, lessons, instructions, but they will all be corrective—with a view to the reformation and the regeneration of Adam and his race as human beings—not as spirit beings, not as angels; Adam and his race never were such. Only the Church has been begotten of the Holy Spirit to a spirit nature; only the Church will share in the resurrection to spirit conditions and be thus "like unto the angels."

This Is Not Universalism.

These two salvations, now of the elect, and during Messiah's reign of the non-elect, do not imply a universal salvation of our race, but merely a universal opportunity for everlasting life. The Scriptures most clearly teach a Second Death, like the first death, except that none will be redeemed from the Second Death, and none will be resurrected from it. It therefore will be, as St. Paul declares, an "everlasting destruction" (II Thessalonians i, 9). As St. Peter declares, the wilful sinners against light and knowledge will perish, "like natural brute beasts" (II Peter ii, 12).

The lessons from these great truths of the Bible are powerful. They make plain to us that none can hope to be of the heavenly class, of the Bride of Christ, except such as enter the strait gate and narrow way—the saints, the faithful unto death. They teach us also, in harmony with other Scriptures, that those who now either see not and hear not, or who see and hear imperfectly, will miss this great "prize of our high calling." Nevertheless for these, heathen and others, God has provided more than they could have thought or asked—an opportunity for obtaining human perfection and a world-wide Eden—Paradise restored. It teaches, also, that every misstep, every failure to do our best, is costly—both to the world and to ourselves. To whatever extent the world demeans and degrades itself, it will have, in proportion, difficulty and stripes in connection with the possibilities and opportunities of recovery during Messiah's Kingdom.

Let us herald wide the story of the grace of God in Christ for every creature; let us show the love of God to all who have the eyes and ears of appreciation. There is no greater influence for righteousness than this—the love of God and the love of Christ constraineth us (II Corinthians v, 14). And in proportion as mankind receive the same their constraints toward righteousness increase. Thus, with clearer light upon our Father's Word, it is time for us all to cast aside the things of darkness and sectarianism which so long have separated the people of God from each other.

The Great Lesson of This.

The lesson to the Church is gratitude, loyalty, faithfulness to Him who called her out of darkness to the high calling of joint-heirship with the Redeemer, "the Bride, the Lamb's Wife." It is to make herself ready by putting on the fruits and graces of the Holy Spirit and being renewed and transformed.

The lesson to the world yet is only to those who, to some extent, hear it—that God is Love, that His mercy has provided a great opportunity for restitution that is high at hand; and further, the lesson is that every good and every evil deed will make their impression upon human character and have to do with the stripes, corrections, etc., of the future. Misimproved opportunities in the present life, violations of conscience, etc., will bring their reasonable retribution in the life to come and make the ascent more tedious and the more difficult. On the contrary, every good endeavor and attainment of self-control will be that much of an assistance for the future, when "the Spirit and the Bride shall say, Come, and whosoever will may come and take of the water of life freely" and obtain perfection and everlasting life.

I trust that true Christian unity upon the basis of Divine Truth expressed in the Bible will be the keynote of this Convention to its very close. I trust that every soul in attendance may be so warmed and cheered and vivified by the Truth and its spirit that, going to his home, the blessing may be extended in overflowing measure.

REBEL ARMY IS PUT TO FLIGHT

Fifty Dead Are Left on Mexican Battlefield.

NO MERCY FOR LEADER ZAPATA

Government Officials and Madero Tired of Accepting Promises to Disband Followers and If Captured Will Be Harshly Dealt With For Depredations Committed in State of Morelos—Coming Presidential Election Promises to Be Stormy.

Mexico City, Sept. 5.—Fifty followers of the insurrecto leader Emilio Zapata were killed in a battle with federal troops in the state of Morelos, and it is stated that unless Zapata was killed, as reported, he is to be prosecuted by the federal government for the crimes he has committed and permitted to be committed by his men in that state. Murder, arson and abuses of the dead and living are among the crimes charged.

The federal government has resolved to pay no more attention to his plea that he is disbanding his men, but is going to press the campaign against him. President De la Barra has determined to effect the immediate disarmament of the forces of Zapata, to have every town in the state of Morelos occupied by federal troops, which shall by degrees be replaced by the new rural guard which are being organized by General Villaznor.

Used Machine Guns.

The fight took place between Zapata's men in the mountains near Chinameca and the federales who were garrisoning the town and was precipitated by attacks on the federales by the rebels. The federales used machine guns and mowed down the insurrectos. If Zapata was wounded or killed, his men recovered him, according to the correspondent of El Pais, who says that the federales failed to find the leader on the field.

Mexico City is strongly guarded by police and soldiers and the rioting which disgraced the capital has not been repeated. Friends of Bernardo Reyes are indignant at the conduct of the mob that stoned and robbed him when he was attempting to address a mass meeting in front of the new National theater, and point to the disorders as evidence that Mexico will not have a fair election in October. Madero announced his disapproval of the conduct of the mobs, but orders have not yet been given the troops to fire on the next mob of this character.

OVINGTON WINS RACE

Cross-Country Flight Takes Him Through Three States.

Boston, Sept. 5.—The derby event of the second annual Harvard-Boston aero meet, a cross-country flight of 160 miles through three states, the longest competitive cross-country flight ever held in this country, was won by Earle L. Ovington of Boston, in a 50-horse power Bleriot monoplane.

Provincial Governor Assassinated. St. Petersburg, Sept. 5.—Telegraph reports to the government from North China, in Asiatic Russia, state that an unidentified man shot and killed the governor of the Zaratul penal settlement in the latter's private office. The assassin was overpowered and arrested.

Fire Claims Eleven Victims. Juneau, Alaska, Sept. 5.—Eleven persons lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Juneau hotel and the McGrath building. Six bodies have been taken from the ruins.

HOW A LAUREL RANGE CUTS DOWN FUEL BILLS

Every make of stove is claimed to be a fuel saver—

Of course we claim the same thing for our LAUREL Ranges.

But before you buy your range you want to be sure that the one you buy will do all the things claimed for it—

We know that there is not a range made today that is quite so good as a LAUREL—

Every claim made for it can be proven with actual use.

And we do not ask you to take our word for it, but to come and see for yourself.

For this purpose a LAUREL Twin-Flue Range will be

Demonstrated at Our Store Thursday, Sept. 7th to Saturday, Sept. 9th, 1911

We will show you, thru a specially constructed transparent to why and how the LAUREL Twin-Flue Range will save one-third of your fuel—

How you can cook twice as many things at one time—

How the fire is controlled by the five damper system and why heats its oven as no other oven was ever heated before.

A paper smoke-pipe will be used to prove to you that the heat usually wasted up the chimney by other kinds of ranges is all used in a LAUREL.

Many other things will be shown and proven that it will be to your own interest to buy a LAUREL Range.

We Will Give You

with every Laurel stove bought during this exhibition your choice of a 26 piece chest of silverware or 5 piece set of aluminum cooking utensils.

The silverware is handsomely designed and finished in "French Gray," heavily plated and with ordinary household use will last many years.

Each set contains—1-2 doz. forks; 1-2 doz. knives; 1-2 doz. teaspoons; 1-2 doz. dessert spoons, one sugar ladle and one butter knife.

The Aluminumware is the famous "Wear-Ever" brand and each set contains one 6 qt. preserving kettle; one 6 qt. Berlin kettle. one 4 qt. Berlin kettle (cover interchangeable with sauce pan); one 4 qt. Berlin sauce pan and one 2 qt. deep pudding pan.

Come in and partake of the delicious hot biscuits and coffee which we will serve free each day. Remember the dates are Sept. 7th to 9th.

RUSSIAN LION EASY PREY FOR FARMER

Gotch Keeps Hackenschmidt From Wrestling Honors.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—George Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion, out-fought at every point, laid down his hope of the world's wrestling championship to Frank Gotch. The first fall came in 14 minutes, 18 1-2 seconds on a reverse body hold and wrist lock. The second fall came in 5 minutes, 32 1-2 seconds. Gotch using his famous toe hold that won him the championship three years ago.

Hackenschmidt, untrained, was hog-fat. He had no chance whatever. He was a beaten man when he entered the ring. Gotch, trained to the minute, and seeming the acme of physical perfection, beat Hackenschmidt at every stage of the game. The master strength which Hack was supposed to possess did not show to advantage when Gotch only clasped the lion. The Iowa farmer was simply too good for the Russian. He pitted physical strength against a man who had practically no strength. The result was inevitable.

Spins Russian Around.

The second and final fall came so quickly that the great crowd failed to appreciate the fact that the match was ended. The wrestler had sparred for an opening. Like a flash Gotch caught the Russian around the legs, spun him around and dropped him on his stomach. Gotch's head was at the lion's feet, his legs were wrapped about Hack's body. He worried the Russian for a few moments about the legs and then in a twinkling threw both hands around Hack's left foot. There was a quick sharp twist. A look of intense pain passed over Hack's face. He sought to break; he sought to tear his pained leg from Gotch's grip, but the Iowa farmer was too strong. He twisted again and Hack gave up. Referee Smith's hands fell on Gotch's shoulders and the Humboldt farmer still was the world's champion.

Referee Smith announced just before the match began that at the request of Chief of Police McWeeney and President Comisky all bets were called off.

Columbus Fighter Favored.

Columbus, O., Sept. 5.—Sammy Trott of this city had the better of his ten-round argument with Andy Bezenah of Cincinnati at the fistic carnival held at the Columbus Driving park. No decisions were permitted. George Watson of Columbus and "Dutch" Shaw of Nelsonville were put on for the semi-windup. They fought two and one-half slashing rounds with a knockout blow coming from Watson.

AUTO PARTY ATTACKED

Foreigners Seek Revenge For Death of Cleveland Lad.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 5.—A large touring car, darting out from behind a wagon, knocked down and killed Samuel Yalbonski, 9, in Orange avenue. Immediately the automobile was surrounded by a crowd of 500 foreigners, who hurled sticks and stones at its five occupants and tried to drag them from the car. In the car were Harry Kraku, Frank Dumas and William Walsh and his mother and sister. They fought off their assailants, capturing one who had climbed into the car, and then started with their prisoner to the nearest police station, just as a wagon load of policemen arrived on the scene.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE GIRL IN THE TRAIN." The reigning musical comedy success of all Europe, comes to the Auditorium, Friday evening, Sept. 8, direct from the Globe Theatre, New York, with C. William Kolb in the role of the judge of the divorce court. "The Girl in the Train," the original Viennese title of "Die Geschiedene Frau," is being played all over Europe at the present time. It was written by Leo Fall, composer of "The Dollar Prince," and Victor Losen, author of "The Merry Widow," while Harry B. Smith has adapted it for the American stage. The story concerns an adventure in a sleeping car. A young husband, leaving his wife unexpectedly behind him on a railway journey, gallantly offers his stateroom on a sleeping car to a beautiful actress. The wife thinks the circumstances enough to justify her in suing for divorce. Kolb appears as the judge, while Olga Steek and Violet Seaton will appear as the wife and the actress. There is a chorus of beautiful girls and an augmented orchestra. The production is made on the usual lavish scale for which all the Broadway productions are noted. The music is said to be the best Mr. Fall has ever written; it has that charming Viennese swing in the waltz numbers, and the score throughout shows a technical finesse almost unknown to music comedy.

The chorus of "The Girl in the Train" is said to be youthful, pretty and of surpassing excellence in vocal training. The gowns worn by the young ladies are beautiful and modish.

The Orpheum. Three capacity houses was the rule at the Arcade theatre Monday and every patron was pleased with the acts presented. Daniel Sullivan & Co. in his Irish playlet, "Cullinan Barry," was one of the biggest hits; the house has ever known. The theme is a beautiful and interesting one, the special scenery is attractive and finishes the act beautifully. Every one in the sketch is a real actor, while Mr. Sullivan is great. He handles fun, wit and pathos, each as easily as the other, while his songs bring repeated encores. Ingalls, Duffield & Ingalls, society entertainers, made a big hit. Their songs were late, catchy hits, and their dancing is class. They were given several hands in the midst of their dancing. Dorothy May, comedienne, surely offered her share of the entertainment. She is a very attractive miss, with an excellent wardrobe and her voice is well adapted to every selection she renders. Her dancing was very pleasing. Toledo & Burton, in a singing gymnastic novelty, "The Girl and the Frog," offered an original act. Many of their stunts were almost beyond imagination, yet were done with a grace that spoke well for the team. The Orpheumscope has an excellent film. This is a splendid bill and one that you should not miss. Secure all seats early as there will be no more standing room sold this week.

A Dreadful Sight
To H. J. Barnum of Freeville, N. Y., was the fever sore that had plagued his life for many years in spite of many remedies he tried. At last he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve and wrote: "It has entirely healed my scar left. Heals burns, boils, eczema cuts, bruises, swellings, corns and piles like magic." Only 25c at F. D. Hall's.

Four Dead in Wreck.
Erie, Pa., Sept. 5.—Four persons are dead and at least 40 injured as the result of the wreck of an Erie & Pittsburgh passenger train at Dock Junction. The wreck was the result of a collision between the Erie & Pittsburgh train and a Lake Shore freight train, which was backing into a switch to allow the passenger train to get through.

Kilbane Victorious.
Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 5.—With a hard right swing to the jaw, Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland knocked out Joe Rivers of Los Angeles in the sixteenth round of their scheduled 20-round bout at Vernon.

MGR. BASSETT AGAIN AT HELM OF ORPHEUM

The opening of Newark's pretty little vaudeville house, the Orpheum theatre, was marked by great success Monday. The opening performance of this season was the matinee, and it found the house completely filled. In the evening for both performances the S. R. O. sign was early hung out and a large number of people were turned away. This house is again this season under the management of Mr. Mortimer Bassett, who so successfully

MANAGER BASSETT.
Who will have charge of the handsome Orpheum theatre, in the Arcade, this season.

conducted it last season and Mr. Bassett promises a number of big acts for his theatre.

He has also introduced an innovation and will not sell tickets for standing room this season. This new ruling will be appreciated by patrons and will be a safeguard in assisting to clear the house in case of necessity. The Orpheum has six exits and a capacity house could leave the theatre in several minutes.

Manager Bassett intends giving vaudeville lovers some rare treats during the season and has a number of headliners booked fresh from the big city time.

WATERMELON FEAST SERVED BY MGR. RYAN

Col. J. F. Ryan, manager of the Union Market Co., treated his customers and friends to a watermelon feast between the hours of 10 and 12 Monday morning, at which time one thousand juicy melons were served. Vogelmeier's largest transfer wagon was used as a serving table and W. D. Cunningham and Ray Peepel did the carrying. Previous to handing out the slices of fruit from the cucurbitaceous vine, Colonel Alva Liegh, the silver-tongued orator from Centerburg, addressed the crowd and invited all to partake of Manager Ryan's hospitality.

Messrs. W. H. Bolin and Joe England of Zanesville, Hugh Dugan and H. Vannotti of Columbus, W. C. Seward, W. C. Rice and several others of this city assisted in handing out big "hunks" of the red pulp with a copious, sweet watery juice that makes the month twitch at first sight.

The watermelon feast was a huge success in every particular and Colonel Ryan received scores of compliments for his generous hospitality.

PROVINCE DEVASTATED

One Hundred Thousand Chinamen Reported Dead in Flood.

Hankow, China, Sept. 5.—According to reports received here from the American missionaries at Wu-hu of the Yangtze river, causing the death of 100,000 persons. Beyond this there has been a general flood condition in the province of Anwei which is the worst ever known there. It has been estimated that 95 per cent of the growing crops have been destroyed.

Kills Girl and Self.

New York, Sept. 5.—Miss Katherine Van Wyck, the 20-year-old daughter of Albert Van Wyck of Brookline, was shot and killed at Quogue, L. I., by William A. Childs, Jr. Childs then turned the revolver on himself and committed suicide. It is believed Childs was crazed because the girl did not return his love.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.
Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skilled chemists and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.
The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.
Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use.
This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

Smells Like Good Coffee!
Tastes Like Good Coffee!
But Has Not One of the Bad Effects of Coffee

Here at last is the drink for everybody who likes the taste of good coffee. It is especially for those who know that coffee hurts them. This perfect coffee substitute is called Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. Remember the name—Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. There's nothing else on the market like it.
Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is not a tasteless cereal drink—not a vile-tasting decoction. It is a real drink, with all the tempting fragrance—all the satisfying flavor—of the finest coffee. And not a headache—not a pang—not a moment's regret in it. No matter how sensitive your stomach, Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is good for you. Drink all you want of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. It won't hurt you. It will help you.

Fitch's Grains of Health

The Coffee Substitute With the Coffee Taste

It took fourteen years to perfect Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH—the first real coffee substitute. Brilliant chemists joined their labors with coffee experts from the great plantations—men who have had a lifetime of experience with coffee—who know coffee from the seed to the cup.
They had a big idea. It was not to find something to take the place of coffee—but how to treat coffee so that the harm would be left out and the matchless taste and flavor kept in.

A Fascinating Story of Science and Perseverance

Everybody knows that the principle in coffee which causes all the harm is Caffeine. It is caffeine that affects the heart. Enough caffeine can be taken to arrest the heart.
How to neutralize or take out the caffeine without destroying the coffee taste was the task of these chemists and coffee experts.
They succeeded! They did more! They added natural health-building elements that correct all of the digestive system and one up the entire system. The perfected result is Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH.
It is a very simple combination. Test it as you will, you won't find one thing detrimental to health.
Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH has a special high-grade blend of coffee in it, but so combined with herbs, roots and vegetables that the caffeine is counteracted.
Even children can drink all they want of it without the least bad effect.

Note the Good Effects of Fitch's Grains of Health

The herbs, roots and vegetables in Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH give it a positive remedial effect.
We have multitudes of testimonials—some from distinguished physicians—to show that Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH specially alleviates indigestion, heartburn, Sour Stomach, Bileousness, Sick Headache, Constipation, etc.
One of the ill effects of coffee drinking is constipation.

If your grocer cannot supply you, write us, mentioning his name, and we will send you a generous sample package of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH (enough to serve a large family at breakfast) and a booklet telling you all about Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. Enclose 6 cents in stamps for postage.

AEROPLANE FLIGHT A DISAPPOINTMENT

Mt. Vernon, Sept. 5.—The aero-plane flight which was scheduled for Labor Day at Hiawatha Park was a keen disappointment to thousands of people who came from all parts of the county to witness the flight of the bird man. After the big crowd had assembled, the aviator and the promoter discovered that the space allotted to rise from the ground inside the park was not large enough.
The machine was dismantled and taken into a field just outside the park where at a late hour the aviator in-ally ascended into the air. He did not fly far and soon settled to the ground again.

FRIGHTENED TEAM INJURED WOMAN MONDAY

During the Labor Day parade Monday morning Mrs. Gethro Gerspert, of Beech street, received painful injuries by being struck to the ground by a frightened team of horses. Mrs.
Gerspert was standing at the southeast corner of the square viewing the parade when the passing band in the procession caused a team of horses
standing nearby to become frightened. The horses reared and in descending knocked Mrs. Gerspert to the ground, rendering her unconscious.
Mrs. Gerspert was placed in Dr. P.
H. Cosner's machine and taken to her home. She received several painful bruises, but her condition is not serious.

Omaha, Neb.—Thomas Her, a milk
wagon driver, fell into a vat containing 1,000 gallons of buttermilk and was drowned.
